

Screens Shade Glass

Glass walls that face directly into hot afternoon sun can be shielded with a tall screen built several feet away from the house. An attractive pattern uses spaced slats or boards, cedar 1x2s or 1x4s nailed horizontally to 4x4 posts.

Match Your Bedspread

Today, sturdy cotton bedspreads are more than practical. They are pretty enough to wear. Many women do just that. They stitch up lounge-wear and at-home gowns from colorful cotton spreads.

MRS. DAVID BROWNLEE
(Susan Hulsing)

Brownlee-Hulsing Rites At St. John's

Susan Hulsing and David Anderson Brownlee exchanged marriage vows Saturday, Aug. 12, before the altar of St. John's Episcopal Church, Plymouth.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing, of Plymouth. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brownlee, of Mt. Lebanon, Pa., are parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. Canon David Davies and the Rev. Hans Frel officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an Althe gown of ivory tulle de sole edged with a lace on lace. A floor-length mantilla fell from her Juliet cap, and she carried white roses.

Her attendants wore full-length gowns of lime green linen, and their bouquets and headpieces were fashioned of roses and daisies.

Mrs. Delmer Fehrs was matron of honor for her sister, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Timothy Johnson, also a sister of the bride, Ann Brownlee, sister of the bridegroom, Susan Holden and Mrs. Ross Chase.

John Carlsson, of Terry, Mont., the bridegroom's fellow student at Yale University, was his best man, and the guests were seated by Alex Garvin, Lance Leibman, Sherwin Goldman and Thomas Edwards.

Mrs. Hulsing wore a dress of pale yellow ribbon embroidered lace, and Mrs. Brownlee wore a two-piece blue silk costume. Both pinned cymbidium orchids to their purses.

The couple received some 180 guests in the bride's home following the ceremony. They later left for a Nova Scotia wedding trip.

Their home next year will be at New Haven, Conn., where the bridegroom, assistant dean at Yale, will complete his law studies. The bride, a graduate of Wellesley College and New York University, will teach history at Amity High School.

Sharon Heidt Weds Herman M. Esch

Sharon Estelle Heidt and Herman M. Esch were united in marriage in an evening ceremony in St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Plymouth, Saturday, Aug. 12.

Parents of the couple, both of Plymouth, are Mr. and Mrs. Arnold L. Heidt of Canton Center Road and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Esch of Hagerway Road.

A white silk organza empire princess gown was the bride's choice. Peau d'ange lace trimmed the Sabrina neckline, court sleeves and chapel train, and her silk illusion veil fell from a flower headdress with pearl border trim. She carried an arrangement of orchids, stephanotis and ivy on a white prayer book.

Her attendants wore empire gowns of aqua lace and chiffon with head pieces made of clusters of aqua bows.

Joyce Swinheart, of Ypsilanti, was matron of honor and Nancy Esch, of Plymouth, served as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Barbara Lake, of Pontiac, and Pam Bogart, of Ypsilanti.

Wed In Plymouth

Patricia Clare Carey, daughter of Mrs. Robert C. Carey, of Morristown Avenue, Plymouth, became the bride of Samuel Edward White Jr., in Our Lady of Good Counsel Church recently.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Robert Schaden. The bride's uncle, William A. Coelin, of Ann Arbor, gave her in marriage.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. White, of Birmingham. The bride designed and made her lace wedding gown. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Michael Johns, of Ann Arbor, wore a white net gown with yellow daisy trim. She carried a bouquet of yellow daisies. Best man was Michael Johns. A reception at the Mayflower Meeting House followed the ceremony.

The couple, graduates of Michigan State University in Ypsilanti, will make their home in Wixom, Mich.
