Glue Saves Float

The Farmington Historical Society's float made a clean sweep last Saturday and Sunday and took first prize for the best Historical float in Farmington and Utica.

This was the first time the Society had ever entered or even built a float of any kind and Mary Checketts, head float builder, was proud of her organization's accomplishments.

The event in Utica was a celebration of their 150th birthday. The Historical Society left early Sunday morning to be in time for the beginning of the parade in Utica at 2 p.m. They arrived at 1 p.m. but on the way there the float had literally fallen apart because of the bumpy roads on the way. The only things left standing were the totem pole and the tepees.

Bill VanWagon, designer of the float, rushed into the town and bought as much black spray paint as he could find on Sunday. Then, the crew of the float patched and glued the float together and then, painted everything with the black paint.

Briar Hill Notes

By FRANK MANN, 626-5846

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bowman left their cottage up north and came to see their daughter Mary Helen Truesdell, before going to their winter home at St. Petersburg, Fla. While here they will divide their time between Mary Helen and her husband, their son in Mt. Clemens and their granddaughter, who is a bride of five months.

Saturday, Sept. 23, was the date for the latest outing of the Mystery Club. Six couples set off looking for clues in a Treasure Hunt, taking them to the pump house, the Kendallwood water tank, the vine barrel on Grand River, the wine wheel at Franklin, the old school house on Farmington Road and the historical marker in Farmington. Those ending up for refreshments at Wilkins were the Biehls, the Holmes, Brown, Marzinkas, O'Neills and Hages.

AFTER MANY years of being bussed to different schools, Briar Hill children are now trucking through the sub, going to their classes at Forest Elementary. And by now, the college set has returned to their classes. Sunday, Sept. 24, found the Cops taking their trip to Grand Valley near Grand Rapids; Mary Jo Hopkins left early for Miami in Ohio; Jim Jalich is back at Michigan State for his junior year while his sister, Cathy, is a freshman at Central; Ann Wingle is finding out what college life is like at Ferris; Bob Hatch is taking advantage of a scholarship at Purdue; Ken Phair is in school in Pennsylvania; our own daughter Debbie is studying for her sophomore year at Albion and
