THE CONCERT FAVORITES HERE DECEMBER 10TH.

One of the Best Numbers of the Entertainment Course. Expected to Draw Big Crowd

Those who enjoy really good things in the line of entertainment should make it a point to attend when the Concert Favorites visit the village. This is one of the numbers of the entertainment course and is one that is relied on to fill the house.

Miss Marmein has rare talent and thorough training and has met with wonderful success, while Miss Johnston has a highly cultivated soprano voice of a very rich tone and is also a talented impersonator. With these ladies is Clayton Conrad, the picture artist. His drawings are remarkable for the cleverness and rapidity with which he does the work. Quick with new, fresh wit and jokes he keeps the crowd in the best of humor.

City Girl Robs Farmington Man
From the Detroit papers we learn that one of Farmington's well known residents was fleeced out of $20 by a young lady of that wicked city, but that his persistence, coupled with his detective ability, afterwards secured the arrest of the fair purloiner.

Although C. H. Pettibone is 50 years old, or thereabouts and Katherine Klentz of Charlotte avenue, only 21, Kate could not rob "Maj" in that high-handed fashion and get away with it so easily.

The theft is alleged to have taken place in a room in State street about six weeks ago and the robbed victim has been camping on her trail ever since.

Sunday after tramping the streets for days she was discovered and calling the aid of a policeman, Mr. Pettibone secured her arrest after she had entered a theatre.

Enjoying Second Honeymoon
Although they could not live peacefully together after they had separated they found that they could not be happy apart so Jacob and Sadie Sofia went and got married again and are now having honeymoon number two.

Sofia is the Roumanian tailor, who lives half a mile north of Redford on Lahser avenue. Eight months ago they were divorced after having lived together since 1902. Four children were not sufficient to hold them together, but were probably an aid to the reconciliation. The children remained with the father during the separation. They are together again on the little farm near Redford.

In the Land of Flowers

In renewing her subscription to the Enterprise Miss Jennie Comstock, formerly of Clarenceville, writes of her new home in Folsom City, California: "The weather here is lovely. Everything is green and the trees are loaded with oranges turning yellow. We like it here very much. The farmers are putting in their oats and the country is full of beautiful flowers—so different from Michigan."

Chicken Pie Supper

The annual chicken pie dinner and donation to be given by the ladies and congregation of the L. O. E. church will be held in the L. O. E. hall December 5. Supper will also be served. Comfortables will also be offered for sale.

Mrs. Minnie Paulger of Bay City visited her sister, Mrs. Wallace Hatton, and other relatives in town the first of the week.

Hard Cider Fiend Goes to Jail
Frank Romski, who is 39 years age and a Farmington township man, has gone to the Detroit house of correction for 65 days. Romski was taken to Pontiac by Deputy Sheriff Wilcox where on Monday morning he plead guilty to the charge of disorderly conduct before Judge Stockwell.

Romski was arrested last spring for intoxication, it being alleged that a barrel of cider was guilty of supplying the booze. Upon a promise to be good in the future he was released.

Mrs. Romski has stood for his conduct for the past few months until she concluded that it would be better to teach him a lesson, and although the whole care of the children will now fall on her she believes that it will be preferable to the life she has been forced to lead in the past.

Gaby Desly at the Garrick Theatre

Parisian in every twist of her toe and shrug of her shoulder, the shoulder, the idolized Gaby Deslys comes to the Garrick Theatre, Detroit, for three nights only, beginning Dec. 1st in a modern musical play entitled "The Little Parisienne." During her engagement Gaby will play two matinees, the first on Tuesday and the final one Wednesday. Her tour will necessarily be a brief one, as she must return to New York to appear at the Winter Garden in a new production.

In sending her here the Winter Garden management has surrounded her with a capable company including Harry Pileer, Forrest Huff, Fritzie Von Busing, Edgar Atchinson, Elsie Carrie Reynolds, Arthur Lipsen, Hattie Kintel and Percy Lyndal.

As far as Gaby is concerned, it might just as well be called "A Dressmaker's Dream" for she is the chief attraction, and while her art as an actress, singer and dancer, has done much to place her in the first rank of ingenue leading women, her first reputation was gained on account of her wonderful gowns which number nearly 200. There are gowns of every conceivable hue and color and of the latest, Parisian style, and Gaby knows how to wear everyone of them in a way which is altogether her own. While her gowns are a treat in themselves, the public likewise shows a burning curiosity in her gems and Gaby uses them to the best advantage. She flashes them before her audience as a dazzling meteor and in a Pleiades of pearls.

While the fact is not yet advertised, it is nevertheless true that to the remarkable woman much of the success of the Winter Garden has been due. The productions that have followed there without Gaby as the star have been praise worthy, but Gaby attracted more attention than all the other features combined. She has been loath to go out of New York and her visit to Detroit is, in this respect at least out of the ordinary. In "The Little Parisienne" she will assume the leading role which gives her every opportunity to show what she can do and to display her gowns and her jewels.

Expensive Feathers

The usual amount of disappointment was manifested when a portion of the men who attended the feather party at Clarenceville Tuesday evening came home empty-handed. Nevertheless, a certain amount of fowl consumed on Thanksgiving day savored of the raffish.

Six ladies were very pleasantly entertained at the home of Mr. Adolph Nacker Tuesday evening.

ONE MISSING MAN LOCATED AT LAST

Fred S. Crawford Discovered in the British Northwest by the Publication of His Picture

A last trace has been found of Fred S. Crawford, whose strange and mysterious disappearance from Redford some months ago has since baffled all efforts to locate him.

According to report he is up in the Canadian northwest and is still going under his real name.

Mrs. Crawford recently wrote to a friend up in that part of the world and in addition to relating her troubles sent along a picture of her husband.

The friend took the picture to the local newspaper in which it was printed, with a brief description of the man and his name.

The next day information came to the newspaper office that Mr. Crawford was working in a shop in that city.

Mrs. Crawford intends to have her brother go up there and endeavor to persuade her husband to return.

A Thanksgiving Wedding

At high noon on Thanksgiving Day at the home of William Sprague occurred the marriage of his youngest daughter, Lucie Adell, to Earl J. Skarritt. The ceremony took place in the presence of the immediate relatives.

After the wedding feast the happy couple left for a short wedding trip, and will be at home to their friends after December 15th on the Sprague farm.

Many friends join in extending best wishes for happiness and prosperity to Mr. and Mrs. Skarritt.

Home From the Hospital

M. Sulkowski, who was injured a few weeks ago when his horses ran away in Detroit and who had since been in the House of Providence, was brought home Wednesday. He is recovering nicely.

To California for the Winter

Mrs. Clark Harger is to be the recipient of a complimentary trip to California. She will meet her two sisters in Chicago and they will together leave for Pasadena Saturday morning where they will spend the winter.
