Livonia Churches Set Joint Retreat

A new step toward closer understanding among area churches will be taken this weekend when about 30 members of seven Livonia churches get together for an interfaith retreat. It will be held Nov. 17 to 19 at Camp Michi-Lu-Ga, near Farview in the Au-Sable River area.

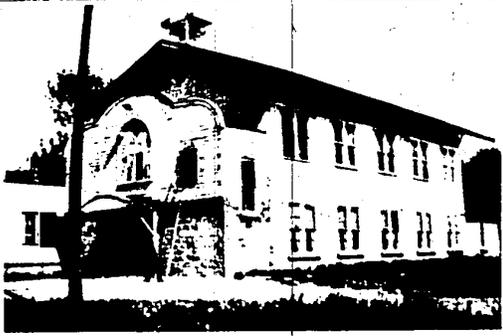

Churches participating include St. Matthew's Methodist, St. Paul's Presbyterian, St. Timothy Presbyterian, Rose-Gardens Presbyterian, Trinity Church of the Brethren and Holy Cross Evangelical Lutheran.

"MEANING OF Persons and Communication" is the theme of the retreat. Resource persons will include the Rev. Harold Garner, former pastor of Trinity Church, and currently a doctoral student at the University of Michigan, and Dr. John Wickey, consulting psychologist in the Detroit area. Each church has picked several of its members to attend. Most of those who will participate are leaders in the Christian education work of the churches.

PLANS FOR the retreat came out of a series of dialogues on adult education began last spring under the leadership of the Rev. Thomas Estes, of St. Paul's.

Church representatives who participated in the dialogues, besides setting up the retreat, also are making plans for a spring series of seminars where several churches would cooperate.

THE OLD AND THE NEW—These pictures show the old frame building, where Clarenceville Methodist Church's Rev. Elsie Johns began her ministry 26 years ago, and a portion of the new building on Middlebelt Road.

Charity Awards Dinner Set

The "Knights of Charity" award dinner will be held Friday, Nov. 17, at the Statler-Hilton Hotel.

Awards to whom Walker L. Cluser, board chairman of the Detroit Edison Company and dinner chairman, will make the presentations are Stanley S. Kresge, president of the Kresge Foundation and chairman of its board of trustees, a Protestant; Edward C. Levy, president of the Edward C. Levy Company, of the Jewish faith; and Aloysius F. Power, recently retired from the posts of vice president and general counsel of the General Motors Corporation, a Catholic.

The dinner is under auspices of the trustees of Marydale College, Memphis, which is conducted by the PME Missionaries of St. Peter and Paul, with the Rev. Fr. Nicholas Maestri, P.M.E. president. The $100-a-plate dinner marks recognition of the three men for work in humanitarian fields and philanthropic work.

Clarenceville Methodist Church Has New Kind Of Pledge Drive

Clarenceville Methodist Church is celebrating a remarkable growth over the last quarter century by a new kind of pledge drive. In its "Every Member Pledge Drive," set for the week of Nov. 19 to 25, the church will ask its 1,154 members what they would like to see included in the church program for the coming year.

The idea is that helping to write the church program will bring increased personal involvement, and the needed hands will come too.

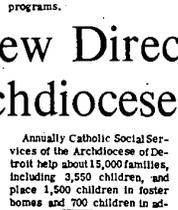

DURING VISITATION week, every member will be called on in his home and asked for reactions to various church programs.

Ryan New Director For Archdiocese Office

Timothy F. Ryan, of Farmington is the new director of the Wayne County Catholic Social Service office for the Archdiocese of Detroit. He is one of six professional social workers whose promotions to top county posts were announced this week by the Rev. Father Robert V. Monticello, executive director of Social Services for the Archdiocese.

Leonard R. Jagals, of Rochester, was named to lead the Oakland and Lapeer County offices, and other appointees are James Fennelly, Lenawee County; Emmet Roche, Macomb County; Joseph A. O'Connor, Monroe County; and Geraldine M. Parrish, Washtenaw County.

All the agencies have been headed by priests.

TIMOTHY F. RYAN

RYAN, WHOSE charge includes the City of Detroit, was born in Boston, and is a graduate of Boston College and of the Boston University School of Social Work.

He was director of personnel and purchasing at Boston, before undertaking social work positions in Boston, Concord, Mass., Providence, R. I., and Detroit.

His supervisory and administrative experience includes work in the In-Service Training Program, Department of Public Welfare, Boston; supervisor of Catholic Social Services of Wayne County Child Care Division, executive for the Catholic Social Services of South Bend, Ind., and in the Catholic Social Services of Wayne County, successively Assistant Director, Associate Director, and now, Director.

Ryan is a member of the National Association of Social Workers, Detroit Chapter; Committee on Administration and Personnel Standards, and of the Academy of Certified Social Workers.

He is married to the former Margaret A. Howard of Ann Arbor. They have one child.
