

Township Roads Reflect Maintenance Cutbacks

Each spring residents of the township discover that roads--or rather the sometimes lack of roads--can cause problems of suburban living. However, the time for road maintenance is not during the spring thaw, but during the summer, fall and winter months.

What has been done recently? In reality not much. The Oakland County Road Commission (which maintains the township roads) announced a cutback in its program this summer. The heavy snows and hard winter depleted its funds, the commission said.

In an effort to help remedy the situation, the township kicked in $40,000 to help the commission finance its maintenance program.

The Enterprise & Observer camera took a look at some of the roads in the township.

The pictures show what it found.

DEEP DOWN--At Hearstone and Farmington Rd. a wheel drops deep into a hole in the pavement.

AN IMPROVEMENT--The county has been working on the widening and paving of Drake Rd. north of Grand River during the summer. This project, which had earmarked funds, is being financed by the county, the township, and Thompson Brown Company which is developing a new subdivision in the area.

ASSURING A STOP--The holes in Drake Rd. just south of 12 Mile assure that no motorist will run the stop sign at the intersection.

BROKEN PAVING--On Brandywine in the Kendallwood Subdivision the paving has broken. The holes create problems for the motorists, but do slow down traffic on the street.
