

Students Honor Mentors

Madonna College student teachers honored their co-operating teachers with a testimonial dinner recently. The gesture by 27 seniors was to show the appreciation for the help of their co-operating teachers during their eight-week directed teaching experience in public or parochial schools this fall.

Senior co-chairman Adie Lissito and Ginger Visel commented, "Student teachers in essence owe much of their success during their field experience to these men and women."

GUEST SPEAKER was Earl Gibson, assistant superintendent in the Plymouth school system, his topic, "The American Heritage," delineated the school system of today with its recent technological and educational advances within the framework of early American beginnings.

The Rev. Leon Kennedy, Madonna theology department head, gave the invocation. Sister M. Dantha, president, acknowledged the importance of critic teachers to the college's teacher education program. Sister M. Martina, head of the teacher education department, projected an image of an "impact teacher" one who leaves a significant impression on students, administrators, parents, and the community at large.

MRS. NANCY TANGER, MC's co-ordinator of teacher education, expressed the college's gratitude to the critic teachers for directing the seniors in their initial teaching experience.

"I am thankful I am a teacher," said Mrs. Tanager, "an proud to be associated with such a noble profession."

Student teacher Sue Szekla shared with the dinner attendees several experiences she considered "unique" at Stevenson High, Livonia, namely, modular scheduling, team teaching and resource centers.

SENIORS and their co-operating teachers including: Elementary education - Janet Conway, Susan Stevens, Marlene Szymanski and Gerald Kinsley, Mrs. Myrtle Reed, Mrs. Elizabeth Sheldon, Mrs. Dird elementary school; Shirley Bauer and Mary Munsell and Mrs. Polly Clemo and Mrs. Marjorie Fetherston of Hull elementary school; Laura Dernoncourt and Adele Laszlo and Mrs. Marjorie Victor and Mrs. Marjorie Jones of Tyler elementary school; Marilyn Rustin and Don Holiar of Jackson elementary school; Marianne Scott and Mrs. Lee Terry of Allen elementary school; Mrs. Audrey Harris, Kathleen Standley and Mrs. Sallie Watts and Mrs. Beverly Stosad of Monroe elementary school; Virginia Visel and Sister Chrysothem of St. Clare of Montefiore elementary school.

STUDENTS in secondary education and their cooperating teachers: Marlene Fox, Diane Kalicki, Diane Raychak and Anthony Wayne, Kenneth Timmons and John Benner of Bentley; Gloria Kaschuk, Bernadette Pini, Marcia Wolfe and Mrs. Rae Adams, Gary Allison and Mrs. Lorraine Mason of Frost Junior high school; Barbara Lemanske, Susan Schachter, Susan Szekla and Janet Dudenhoff, Bill Alexander and Sarah Dick of Stevenson; Susan Szczarba and Mrs. Clemence Duva of Emerson; Mrs. Rosanne Reid, Beth Ann Seay, Sister Mary Marie Fix and Sister Agnes Charles, Patrick Uetz and Sister Ligouri of Bishop Borgess.

Jackie Crampton of WJBK TV will be the commentator for the show of holiday costumes, wigs, make-up and apparel. Jimmie McDonald, a member of the Billy Graham Evangelical Association, will present a musical program with Christmas meditations. McDonald is a native of Baltimore, and studied for two years at the Peabody Conservatory. In 1960 he was soloist for the Tokyo Christmas Crusade and since that time has been featured with crusades in Australia, New Zealand, Japan, Korea, Brazil, England, Ireland and Africa.

CWC To See Holiday Styles

Holiday Couture Fashions and Make-Up will be presented at the monthly meeting of the Northwest and Suburban Detroit Christmas Women's Club, Thursday, Dec. 7 at 12:30 p.m. in Devo Gables.

BE ON TV WITH SANTA! FREE CANDY CANES! VISIT SANTA'S TOY WORKSHOP WONDERLAND SHOPPING CENTER PLYMOUTH ROAD AT MIDDLEBELT

OBSERVER

WORLD of WOMEN

PLANNING GRECIAN FESTIVAL-The first Grecian Festival, coming Saturday night at the Light Guard Armory on East Eight Mile Road, will be a gala event for a number of area couples. Looking over some of the decor are Mrs. Nick Lanios, of Livonia (left), Jack A. Tosto, of Redford Township, and Mrs. John Koinis, of Farmington. The dance is sponsored by Sts. Constantine and Helen Greek Church and will feature music of the Trio Del Canto.

Language Society Elects

Newly elected officers and five members were installed recently into Madonna College's Epsilon Theta chapter of the Alpha Mu Gamma, a national collegiate foreign language honor society that encourages achievement and interest in the field of foreign-languages study.

Vintage Home Is Described For Questers

Mrs. Fred Yardley will describe her father-in-law's 1737 home in Kensington, W.M., at the meeting of the Quakerstown Questers at 12:30 p.m. today in the home of Mrs. Joseph W. Boduchak, 2876 Farmington Road, Farmington.

Speed Whipping

A pinch of salt added to heavy cream will make it whip faster.

BOYS! GIRLS! BE ON TV WITH SANTA! FREE CANDY CANES! VISIT SANTA'S TOY WORKSHOP WONDERLAND SHOPPING CENTER PLYMOUTH ROAD AT MIDDLEBELT

-- m. m. memos --

The Thanksgiving turkey now is reduced to a couple of packages of frozen white and dark meat to be saved for the day when poultry will be more of a treat.

I bought the bird neatly packaged and frozen at the supermarket. But not without vivid memories of the year I decided to get one from a farm, instead.

The nursery school where my then four-year-old was enrolled had visited this farm, and she and the other tots looked wide-eyed on the great expanses of milling white turkeys.

The squawking and gobbling made a frightening din—more noise than that schoolful of children ever thought of making.

But the turkeys looked beautiful and healthy so I ordered one, and a few days before Thanksgiving drove out with my nursery school child to pick it up.

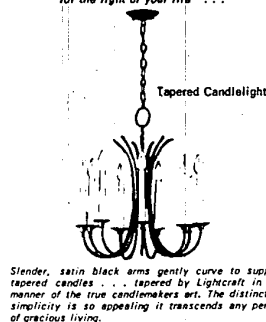

We turned in at the farm drive, and she looked a mite apprehensive. When I said we were going to get a turkey, she was visibly shaken.

The loud wailing started as I got out of the car. "Don't put it in the back seat with me," she begged.

Only then I realized she had visions of one of those great, flapping, noisy things beside her in the car. She's bigger and more sophisticated now, and she learned in the first grade to tell the Thanksgiving story quite accurately.

But she did get a bit confused on one detail, probably because her mother goes off to several different offices of The Observer. "The Pilgrims," she related proudly, "sailed across the ocean on the Mayflower and landed at Livonia Rock."

"for the light of your life"

Allen electric supply co. 31750 Plymouth Rd., Livonia KE 8-8740

Wayne Players To Open

"The Dark at the Top of the Stairs," a play written by William Inge, is the next production to be presented by The Wayne Civic Players, at the John Glenn High School at 8:30 p.m. Nov. 30, Dec. 1 and 2 at 8:30.

The play is a story of a family from the mid-west in the early 1920's.

Carol Katz as Cora Flood and Dan Myers as Ruben Flood will be seen as the married couple at the center of the drama.

Louis Schafer will be Lottie Lacey, and Pat Quiller has the role of Morris Lacey.

THE CHILDREN will be played by Valerie Guernsey as Renie Flood and Skip McGlashan as Sonny Flood. Ken Livingston will be Sammy Goldenbaum. Others in the cast are April Platt as FlirtConroy, Jim Warnick as Punky Givens, and David Whipple as a boy off stage.

Jackie Guernsey is directing and Rob Roy is the assistant director, with Bill Hoffman producing.

TICKETS WILL be sold at the door. Some season tickets are still available for this play and the next production "Barnfoot in the Park," on April 25, 26 and 27, also at John Glenn.

The Wayne Civic Players are also planning a Beaux Arts Ball in February, which you will be hearing more about in the future.

For any further information please call Gladys McLaughlin at 728-0459.

PRIDE IN HER EYES—Lenore Romney didn't try to hide her admiration as husband George announced he'll seek the GOP presidential nomination.

Plymouth Newcomers Set Tea

The Plymouth Newcomers Club will hold a Christmas Tea from 1 to 3 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 7, on the second floor of the Plymouth Library.

Both members and prospective members are invited. Reservations are being taken by Dottie Martinek, 455-0291, for those whose last names begin with the letters A to M, and by Sally Rowland, 455-0279, for those with names beginning with the letters N to Z.

Minnesota Women Set Luncheon Date

The University of Minnesota Women's Club will hold an annual Christmas luncheon on Friday, Dec. 1, at 12:15 p.m. in the home of Mrs. John White, 1072 West 11 Mile Road, Birmingham.

The program will include caroling and making favors for shut-in senior citizens.

Reservations may be phoned to Mrs. Joan Strang, 647-1781, or Mrs. Arthur Barry, 357-5324.

They didn't have to bring Lenore Romney to Detroit on a stretcher to be with her husband when he challenged the nation to accept a New America and make him President.

"We're a team and we'll stay a team no matter what," she said.

Mrs. Romney, a minor role actress in Hollywood before she married George Wilcken Romney in 1931, bubbled as well as she could with a broken shoulder.

IT WAS her first outing since she fell in the bathtub at their Bloomfield Hills home, Gov. Romney's first words to the nationwide press corps before the TV cameras started churning out his message to the nation were typical:

"I'm delighted that Lenore is able to be with us today. She hasn't been out of the house since doing the ballet in the bathtub."

And his first words as the country watched were:

"My wife Lenore is my greatest earthly inspiration. She excelled in eloquence, the poetry of words, empathy and graciousness."

"I have given my life to the poetry of decisions and work."

LENORE'S BEIGE COAT

covered the cast on her arm and shoulder. She sat with Scott and his wife, their daughters, Mrs. Bruce Robinson and Mrs. Loren Keenan and their husbands.

Lenore is No. 1 in Romney's life. They're a team. Lenore makes as many as five speeches a week, usually pitched to the theme of morality and the hope that a revived family life will build America.

BUT THERE are other ladies about Romney.

There is Mrs. Elly Peterson, the Grand Lodge wife of a National Guard officer, who started organizing youth activities for Romney. She was named the nation's first state GOP chairman in 1962.

Early Saturday she was conferring with other party chairmen before the 10 a.m. announcement of the primary, and agreeing with a reporter it was a big day for Republicans.

"Mrs. Romney will be here on a stretcher," she said, "if he goes to be a big affair. We'll have good troops."

"After all this it will be a big surprise if he (Romney) says he's not going, wouldn't it?"

THE REGISTRATION tables for those who had tickets and needed a badge, and for those who didn't have tickets at all, was manned by State Central Committee secretaries, among them Mrs. Alice Smith, of Alameda.

"We've been here since about 8:30 a.m.," she said.

Across the way, other ladies were selling the Republican Party Cookbook.

As he thanked Michigan Republicans for bringing him to the decision of running for president, Romney singled out Mrs. Ella Koeze, the GOP national committeewoman, Elly and others.

Lenore Was There For The Big Moment

They didn't have to bring Lenore Romney to Detroit on a stretcher to be with her husband when he challenged the nation to accept a New America and make him President.

"We're a team and we'll stay a team no matter what," she said.

Mrs. Romney, a minor role actress in Hollywood before she married George Wilcken Romney in 1931, bubbled as well as she could with a broken shoulder.

IT WAS her first outing since she fell in the bathtub at their Bloomfield Hills home, Gov. Romney's first words to the nationwide press corps before the TV cameras started churning out his message to the nation were typical:

"I'm delighted that Lenore is able to be with us today. She hasn't been out of the house since doing the ballet in the bathtub."

And his first words as the country watched were:

"My wife Lenore is my greatest earthly inspiration. She excelled in eloquence, the poetry of words, empathy and graciousness."

"I have given my life to the poetry of decisions and work."

LENORE'S BEIGE COAT

covered the cast on her arm and shoulder. She sat with Scott and his wife, their daughters, Mrs. Bruce Robinson and Mrs. Loren Keenan and their husbands.

Lenore is No. 1 in Romney's life. They're a team. Lenore makes as many as five speeches a week, usually pitched to the theme of morality and the hope that a revived family life will build America.

BUT THERE are other ladies about Romney.

There is Mrs. Elly Peterson, the Grand Lodge wife of a National Guard officer, who started organizing youth activities for Romney. She was named the nation's first state GOP chairman in 1962.

Early Saturday she was conferring with other party chairmen before the 10 a.m. announcement of the primary, and agreeing with a reporter it was a big day for Republicans.

"Mrs. Romney will be here on a stretcher," she said, "if he goes to be a big affair. We'll have good troops."

"After all this it will be a big surprise if he (Romney) says he's not going, wouldn't it?"

THE REGISTRATION tables for those who had tickets and needed a badge, and for those who didn't have tickets at all, was manned by State Central Committee secretaries, among them Mrs. Alice Smith, of Alameda.

"We've been here since about 8:30 a.m.," she said.

Across the way, other ladies were selling the Republican Party Cookbook.

As he thanked Michigan Republicans for bringing him to the decision of running for president, Romney singled out Mrs. Ella Koeze, the GOP national committeewoman, Elly and others.

2 Resign At Oakland

Rita E. Victor, veteran newspaperwoman, editor and public relations account executive, has resigned her post as director of public relations for the Division of Continuing Education at Oakland University.

Mrs. Joan Bosworth, director of marketing and publications, has also resigned.

Carpet Your Home for Christmas!

NOT MUCH TIME LEFT!

Dupont Heavy Embossed

501[®] NYLON 7⁹⁶

COMPLETELY INSTALLED

Includes heavy rubber pad, tackless installation, 10 year guarantee, the first two unconditional.

Plus... Two Great Values

Heavy Tip Sheared

NYLON TWEED 3⁷⁹

BUDGET TERMS UP TO 3 YEARS TO PAY!

12 Solid Colors

9 Beautiful Tweeds

KODEL 6⁹⁸

10 Beautiful Colors

Thick Tip sheared finish.

St. Clair Carpet OF LIVONIA 28040 JOY ROAD Est. 1955

GA 7-1400 Between Inkster and Middlebelt KE 8-1210

Open Every Evening 'til 9 p.m. Tuesdays 'til 6 p.m.