

All Isn't Lost!! Draft Board Back In Business

The Plymouth Local Board No. 102, of the Michigan Selective Service System, Monday, released sad news for those prospective draftees who thought they would have a long wait after all records were destroyed in the fire a week ago on Penman Ave. in Plymouth.

director of Selective Service, has indicated the Plymouth Board has resumed operations from temporary quarters in the Post Office building, 860 Penman Ave., just across the street from the burned-out offices.

The office staff, headed by Chief Clerk Mrs. Lucia M. Fedell, is on the job to accept registrations and transact other essential draft board business. The board office may be reached at the same phone as before—453-0232.

Thus, all of the draftees, who had such hopes of long delays, can forget them. Col. Holmes stated that records of Draft Board No. 102 are now being reconstructed based on duplicate copies at State Headquarters in Lansing.

All men who registered at the time of the fire during the month of December, 1967, are requested to return to complete their registrations as soon as possible. These registrants can then be issued their registration certificates which they are required by law to have in their possession.

All men becoming 18 years of age since December 21, including the week before the fire, are also requested to report to the local board to complete their current registration and arrange to receive their certificates.

The Selective Service Act requires all young men to register on their 18th birthday or within five days thereafter. Thus all males becoming 18 will report to a draft board on a continuing basis to be registered.

Members of Local Board 102, who will review all classification actions as the records are reconstructed, are: Judge John Mokersky of Inkster, chairman; Leonard Broquet, Northville, secretary; Verner Bodner, of Detroit; Joseph Greble of Livonia, and George Manolas of Northville.

LT. GOVERNOR William Milliken (center) is shown signing an official State of Michigan Proclamation proclaiming January 21 through January 27 as Jaycee Week in Michigan. That's Pat Duggan of Livonia (left), president of the Michigan Jaycees and John Bailey of Farmington, public relations chairman of the Michigan Jaycees. The proclamation congratulates the Michigan Jaycees for serving their communities well during the past year and urges them to continue their fine efforts.

U-M Experts Set Clinic Saturday For 'Bleeders'

ANN ARBOR—The "U" state's first Hemophilia Consultation Board will conduct a one-day clinic at the University of Michigan Hospital on Saturday (Jan. 20) for patients with the so-called "disease of kings."

Specialists in eight fields—pediatrics, hematology, orthopedic surgery, physical medicine, oral surgery, social work, rehabilitative therapy and vocational guidance—will be among the board members who will give each patient a total evaluation of the effects of his disease. The ailment is marked by profuse bleeding.

The initial clinic is being arranged by the Hemophilia Control Center at U-M, which maintains health records on some 400 patients throughout Michigan.

Dr. John A. Penner, head of the center, said the new clinic will be held about six times a year, at University Hospital, with additional meetings elsewhere as the demand requires. Patients will be able to meet the consultation board free of charge. The costs are being shared by the Michigan Hemophilia Foundation and the state Crippled Children's Commission.
