POINT -- Faculty members at North Farmington High School tried hard Wednesday night, but the students still took the best of two games out of three in a volleyball match.

International Evening Enjoyed By Auxiliary

Conversation on the international level was the order of the evening at the Jaycee Auxiliary meeting Jan. 16.

Marco Ties, of Brazil, Birgit Madsen, of Denmark, and Bill Karavanas, of Greece, American Field Service Exchange students to Farmington were guests of the Jaycees that evening, welcomed by Mrs. Pat Nowak, auxiliary president.

Birgit and Marco attend Farmington High, while Bill attends North Farmington.

As wives and mothers, auxiliary members were interested in the differences in home and family life as outlined by the exchange students.

According to the three, the chief differences between their homelands and America are in the food, climate and teenage dating customs.

Intrigued by the trio's sense of humor, Mrs. Nowak commented, "With the wonderful sense of humor so evident in all these students, the future of the world is certainly in good hands."

A special guest for the evening was Sandy Mallette, Farmington's Junior Miss, who presented a run-down of planned activities for the Michigan Junior Miss contest at the Junior Miss Pageant in Pontiac Jan. 25-28.

Jurosek Gains Ford Promotion

Max L. Jurosek, of 32665 Biddestone Lane, Farmington, has been appointed chief engineer of light trucks in Ford Motor Company's Product Development Truck Engineering office. It was announced this week.

Jurosek is a native of Dearborn and a graduate of the University of Detroit. He joined Ford in 1957 as a quality control engineer and has advanced through a number of engineering management assignments.
