

Senate GOP In Veto Grab

CHICAGO—Dr. Ralph R. MacMillan, chief of Michigan's Conservation Department, told a water pollution conference that some pesticides "should be either banned entirely or used only under the most careful controls" in the Lake Michigan basin. He also warned that discharge of hot water into the lake from nuclear power plants and other installations could become large enough to change the biological patterns of the lake.

LANSING—The Michigan Senate erroneously paid out $1,047.07 for a cocktail party thrown in San Francisco last year to boost the presidential aspirations of Gov. George Romney. It was revealed last week. The bill was paid with State funds after the Legislature was "inadvertently billed." Republican lawmakers moved to have the charges for the party switched to Romney's campaign fund.

LANSING—Senate Republicans are ready to grab more political power on appointments made by the governor which require their approval. The policy would in effect give veto power to one senator. The veto plan would go like this: If a senator objected to an appointment of any Republican who resides in his district, the rest of the senators would respect his wishes and refuse to confirm the appointment. The plan was discussed in a meeting last Tuesday but before it can be put into effect it must be approved by some senators who did not attend the session.

PONTIAC—Pontiac City commissioners have adopted a resolution limiting the collection of property taxes to a levy of seven mills, three mills less than the amount levied in the past. The motion was passed by a 5-2 margin. Commissioner Les H. Hudson, who was one of the dissenting voters, said he opposed the cut because he opposed spending income tax money now being collected.

DETROIT—During the last few months, more than two dozen attempts have been made in metropolitan Detroit to defraud elderly persons—usually widows—of their life savings. Detroit police reported, Det. Insp. Roy Chlopian of the Special Investigation Bureau said that a confidence ring is currently operating in the area and has thus far victimized seven persons of an average of $3,600 each. Chlopian explained, "This person claims to be checking on a persons savings account for counterfeit money and requests the victim to withdraw money from her account in strict secrecy. In the case of a bank official, the men say they are trying to capture an embezzler."

NOVI—The Novi Village Council has decided to put the question of the village becoming a home-rule city on a ballot May 20. The Village Committee for City Incorporation said the May 20 date would allow it time to conduct a campaign.

JACKSON—Two convicts who escaped from Southern Michigan Prison, stole guns from a Jackson home owner and disarmed a Detroit policeman were back behind bars Tuesday. Police arrested Jack A. Hewitt, 26, a convicted armed robber, as he rode with an unidentified man in a car in Madison Heights Monday night. The other escapee, William R. Cager, 24, was captured about the same time in a room at a hotel in Saginaw.

ALBANY, N.Y.—Gov. George Romney, jubilant over New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's support of his hoped-for primary victory in New Hampshire, said Rockefeller "has given me support through a period of great criticism. He hasn't even been judgmental as his own stock has risen." Romney was referring to Rockefeller's leading position in public opinion polls.

LANSING—State Sen. Basil W. Brown (D-Highland Park) said he is preparing a resolution which would require the expenses incurred on legislative committee trips be made public record. Brown, who was in the middle of a heated controversy over a so-called committee fishing trip to northern Canada, said his resolution would require submission of expense data to the secretary of the Senate for publication in the daily Senate log.
