Festival Covers Varied Interests

Modern dance, a folk opera, and an evening of Jewish Folk Song and Dance will all be featured as individual presentations of Arts Festival '68 celebration at the Jewish Community Center, Meyers at Curtis.

Modern dance will hold the stage in the Aaron Dellay Theatre in the center on Feb. 29, while an evening of Jewish Folk Song and Dance will be offered March 2. On March 3 the Piccolo Opera Company will present a program of "The Pick of the Piccolo."

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. for all the performances.

faculty supervision. A master dance class, led by the Bennington Troup is scheduled for Wed., Feb. 28 from 5 to 8 p.m. at the Center, and will incorporate lecture demonstrations and panel discussions into its two-hour session.

RUTH RUBIN and Felix Fibich will highlight the program of Jewish Folk Song and Dance. The pair are the most authoritative artists in the field. Ruth Rubin will not only sing a selection of traditional melodies, both plaintive and joyous, but will provide a commentary to enhance the audience's understanding of the atmosphere that gave rise to this music. Felix Fibich will interpret the world of Sholem Aleichem through dance, his dances, which he has choreographed himself, are carefully researched, incorporating the venerable gestures and movements which were so much a part of the dance culture of the Eastern European Jews.

In addition, Fibich will include in his presentation some of the ancient Yemite and the modern Israeli dances.

A workshop has been scheduled for Sunday, March 3, from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the Jewish Community Center, to be conducted by Fibich. It is open to a limited number of participants who are interested in learning more about Yiddish folk dancing.

HIGHLIGHT of the Piccolo program will be the costumed presentation of the folk opera, "A Goat's Tale," based on the humorous folk stories of Sholem Aleichem.

Included in the program will be a concert of classical and Broadway selections in a unique musical.

Cast of the opera includes Evelyn Orbach, director of the Detroit Opera Theatre and Piccolo Opera Company, in the role of the Goat, and Leslie Eitzen as Yenta, the Goat Keeper.

The Festival runs from Feb. 25 through March 10 and honors the creative and performing arts.
