U. S. Eyes Phony Business

Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien says the promoters of phony business directories will find 1968 an even "rougher" year than 1967.

Last year two persons were convicted in a U.S. court for fraudulently mailing solicitations which appeared to be inquiries for legitimate directories. Four other operators were indicted, and several promoters quit to avoid possible prosecution or because public exposure of such schemes reduced their profitability.

A recent check by the Postal Inspection Service indicates that the number of fake business directory operators in southern California, the area from which nearly all of these promoters work, declined from about 20 in January to less than 10 in December.

O'Brien hopes that the department can virtually eliminate this racket in 1968 as a result of the inspection service's stepped-up drive and a provision in the Postal Revenue and Federal Salary Act of 1967. The amendment declares that solicitations in the guise of bills or statements of account are not mailable unless they contain on their face in large and conspicuous type the following notice:

"This is a solicitation for the order of goods and/or services and not a bill, invoice, or statement of account due. You are not under obligation to make any payments on account of this offer unless you accept this offer."

The Postmaster General may require the use of language other than the above. The amendment will become effective March 15.

BUSINESSMEN RECEIVING solicitations which appear to be bills that do not carry this warning are urged to send the proposal and envelope in which it was mailed to the Chief Inspector, Post Office Department, Washington, D.C. 20260. "We are confident," Chief Inspector H.B. Montague says, "that if the required notice is conspicuously displayed on these bogus invoices it will take the profit out of the racket."

"The sooner we receive evidence that the law is being violated the sooner we can check the fly-by-night promoters who attempt to ignore the requirements of the act."

Montague also anticipates the promoters of fake directories operating from foreign countries, will float the new law. WITH FOREIGN promoters the Post Office Department can frequently move promptly to curb a racket of this type. When the Department's General Counsel finds, on the basis of evidence submitted by inspectors, there is reason to believe a promoter in another country is deceiving U.S. mail patrons, he petitions the department's judicial officer to issue a foreign fraud order against the promoter. Through such procedure the Post Office Department denied last year the use of the U.S. mails and the receipt of funds to seven directory promoters working from other countries.

The promoters of fake directories send out millions of solicitations to businesses large and small.

Questions Cigarette Heart Disease Link

Whether there is a connection between cigarette smoking and coronary heart disease is still unknown, a report in the Journal of the American Medical Association said yesterday.

Evidence, accumulated since the United States Surgeon General's report on smoking in 1964, hasn't decided the question either way, wrote Prof. Carl C. Selzer of the Harvard University's School of Public Health.

The newer evidence "still suggests a connection," Selzer said. "Our survey of the new epidemiological evidence has indicated that, for all practical purposes, pipe or cigar smoking is not associated with excess deaths and disabilities due to coronary heart disease, leaving cigarette smoking as the focus of necessary attention."

Bake An Orange Carrot Ring

Sweet, juicy Florida oranges and fresh carrots make an unusual vegetable dish. This delicious, nutritious combination will add refreshing flavor and a bright note of color to winter meals. The grated carrots are mixed with orange juice, minced onion, eggs and other ingredients, and baked in a ring mold. To serve, the center may be filled with cooked peas and mushrooms or other vegetables. Fresh Florida orange slices make a pretty garnish.

Baked Orange Carrot Ring
1 pound carrots, washed and scraped
3 eggs
1/2 cup flour
1/4 cups Florida orange juice
Grate carrots medium fine. Best eggs with flour until smooth; stir in orange juice, salt, Tabasco and melted butter. Add grated carrots and minced onion and mix well. Turn into buttered 5-cup ring mold. Bake in 375°F. oven 1 hour or until golden brown on top. Let stand 5 minutes, then turn out on serving platter. Fill center with cooked peas and mushrooms or other vegetables, if desired, garnish with orange slices.
YIELD: 6 to 8 servings.
