The Case Against "HARD" Pesticides

Michigan's Department of Conservation, in an all-out battle against environmental pollution, is calling for an end to the use of such "hard," highly destructive pesticides as DDT, Dieldrin, Aldrin, and Endrin. The weight of evidence against these persistent chemicals overwhelmingly support the Department's forthright stand. "They have pollution or drink any fluid without swallowing at least of production of the case the control of the case of the control of the case of the control of the case of the control of the damper these Chemicals," says Const documented cases tell of the damper these Chem of the control of the case of the control of the
