

Meeting Set On Obscene Literature

A Jesuit priest who serves on the President's Commission on Obscenity and Pornography will be one of the speakers in a conference sponsored by the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs Thursday, April 3, in the YWCA in Lansing. Women's clubs in this area and all over the state are invited to send representatives to participate in the discussions of better literature for youth. The session will run from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The commission representative is the Rev. Morton A. Hill, S.J., of New York. Other speakers for the conference include the Right Rev. Richard A. Egan, Episcopal Bishop of Michigan, and Mrs. Jacob Weisel, executive director of the Metropolitan Detroit Council on Better Literature for Youth.

Officiating will be Mrs. Charles L. Rose, of Ewart, Mich., president of the state federation, and Mrs. James A. McCaslin, of Saginaw, state junior director.

The YWCA is located at 217 Townsend, Lansing. There is no registration fee, but luncheon will be served and reservations may be sent to Mrs. McCaslin, 2014 Gratiot, Saginaw, 48602.

Easter Egg Talk

Mrs. Anastasia Volker will demonstrate Ukrainian Easter egg decoration for the women of the Purdue University Club at 12:30 p.m. Thursday, April 3, in the home of Mrs. K.L. Kimmel, 16880 Village Lane, Grosse Pointe.

The pro-Mario, and Mrs. Robert Cromp-graph also provides scholarships ton, 476-2104, for Bill.

WORLD OF WOMEN

-- m. m. memos --

When I was a child, there came every spring a red-letter day that compared in excitement with Christmas or a birthday.

It was the great occasion when I finally was permitted to discard those darned putty-colored ribbed stockings (come to think of it, they weren't so different from the ones the kids have started wearing again); and greet spring's glory with bare legs and ankle socks. I always had to wait an awfully long time. My mother wasn't one to take such a step lightly.

Which really ought to make me more sympathetic with my children's desires to rush into spring, clothing-wise.

But no, I still can't in good conscience keep up with their wishes.

On the warmish day I think they might switch into a spring jacket and discard extra shocks, they want to head for school in a light sweater. By the time I decide it's alright to play outside without the sweater, they want to put on shorts.

And when that balmy June day comes when I finally am ready to give approval to shorts and sleeveless tops, they can't understand why I won't let them play in the hose. I guess the generation gap never closes.

Mad Hatter Ball Coming

A Mad Hatters' Ball, designed as a social and fund raising event is planned by the Western Suburban Junior Woman's Club Saturday, April 5, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Michaelson of Livonia.

Members and their husbands have extended invitations and have suggested that a "mad hat" be worn by all those who attend.

Hats will be judged and prizes will be given for the funniest, most original, and prettiest hats.

Proceeds from the party will be used for various philanthropic pursuits of the club.

The Western Suburban Junior Woman's club will meet Wednesday, April 19, for a wig demonstration in the home of Mrs. Eldon G. Elliott, 32458 Maryland, Livonia.

Young women who live in the Farmington, Garden City, Livonia, Plymouth, or Westland areas and are interested in obtaining information about this organization may call Mrs. Thomas McGinnis at 422-3422.

Marjorie Gibbs Among WSU Women Honored

Home economist Marjorie Gibbs, of Redford Township, one of eight Wayne State University alumnae to be honored at a Headliners Luncheon at

Determined Loser

If at first you don't succeed, try again and you're sure to lose.

That could be the motto of Mrs. Mary Lowe, who recently was given a recognition party by her Garden City S.O.S. chapter of Buxton Belles.

Mrs. Lowe was a charter member of the chapter, and a few years ago lost 21 of the 31 pounds she wanted to shed to get to her ideal weight. But at that point she had to drop her membership.

Last year she rejoined the group, reached her weight goal and held it five months to win her honors. Daughters Sandi Sullivan, Grace Sundberg and Mary Lynn Lowe, as well as daughter-in-law Paula McKendrick, were on hand when she received her victory tiara.

The chapter meets at 7:30 p.m., each Wednesday.

at 11 a.m. on Saturday, April 5, in the Mauna Loa restaurant. Women of Wayne is paying recognition to WSU women who have been in the forefront during the past year. Television reporter Sylvia Wayne, another headliner, will interview the honorees.

The luncheon also will include special awards to several WSU alumnae, introduction of a new alumni director and installation of officers for 1958-59.

Among the special awards will be one given posthumously to the late Mrs. Ralph Amisen, of Redford Township, a Women of Wayne officer and active member for several years until her death recently.

Two area women also are among the officers to be installed.

Mrs. R. Dewey Hansen, of Livonia, is the new treasurer and Mrs. Richard Wolf, of Farmington, will begin a three-year term as Women of Wayne representative to the WSU Alumni Association board of directors.

One of the co-hostesses for the luncheon is Mrs. David Goldman, of Farmington.
