

MRS. MILTON L. JOHNSON
(Joan Cogsdill)

Joan Cogsdill Is Bride In Midland

Suk organza and venetian lace fashioned the gown Joan Louise Cogsdill wore when she spoke her nuptial vows to Milton L. Johnson Saturday, March 23, in Trinity Lutheran Church, Midland, Mich.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Cogsdill, of Bernadine Avenue, Farmington. Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow H. Johnson, of Sioux City, Iowa, are parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. Robert O. Huff heard the vows.

THE BRIDE'S GOWN featured a bateau neckline and cardinal shoulder train falling to chapel train. A venetian lace bonnet held her shoulder-length illusion veil, and she carried a crescent bouquet of white roses. Nancy Dankert was maid of honor, and the bridegroom's sister, Judy Johnson, was bridesmaid. Their choral tent-style gowns featured a large pleat in front and short sleeves, and they wore bands of coral carnations in their hair and carried crescent bouquets of the same flowers.

Maynard Chaussee was best man and Kurt Kloess was the bridegroom's attendant. James and Lawrence Cogsdill, brothers of the bride, seated the guests.

THE RECEPTION was held at Northern Recreation, Midland. The couple planned a week's honeymoon in Jamaica and will live in Midland. The bride, a graduate of Central Michigan University, teaches sixth grade in the Midland school system, and her husband, an Iowa State University graduate, is employed by Dow Corning Corp.

At a recent dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Millson, of Livonia, announced the engagement of their daughter, Carole Ann, to Thomas Lyne Steding, son of Mrs. Thomas Brewer, of Birmingham, and H. Richard Steding, of Bloomfield Hills. The bride-elect is a graduate of Michigan State University and teaches in the Northville school system. Her fiancé is a graduate of the University of Michigan and is studying for his doctorate there. A June 22 wedding is planned in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Livonia.
