

Kidnapped Miami Youth Missing For Two Years

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—Two years ago Danny Goldman was kidnapped and his parents have sent him blind alleys from Jerusalem to the Oregon logging country. But the Goldmans believe Danny still is alive.

The father said $40,000 waits for the person who returns his son alive. If their son is dead, the parents will pay a reward to the one who produces evidence of his death.

The Goldmans were tied hand, foot and throat and their mouths gagged with tape at 5 a.m. Monday, March 28, 1966, by a stocky man.

The man snatched the $50 in Goldman's wallet and $100 in Sally Goldman's purse, and demanded $10,000.

"I don't keep that kind of money in the house," Goldman said.

The man freed Danny, who was to celebrate his 18th birthday the next day, and ordered him to dress. "I'm going to hold Danny as security for the money. You get up $25,000. If you don't get it for tonight the price will be double tomorrow. I'll call...with instructions."

The man then marched Danny off at gunpoint.

THE FEDERAL BUREAU of Investigation does not believe the kidnapper ever made contact again. Agents still visit the Goldmans about once a week.

If Danny still is alive, wouldn't his two-year absence mean he didn't want to return? In the FBI's three other major unsolved kidnappings, the bodies of the victims were found.

The front bedroom in the Goldman home—Danny's room—is unchanged since Danny was hustled away in his own car, an auto now recovered and parked outside.

The bedroom is stacked with television sets in various states of repair, radios, dozens of batteries rusting and corroding, two phonographs that are the implements of daily prayer for a few, other souvenirs of boyhood, including a sailboat and school books.

LETTERS CAME from all over, Pakistan, Italy, Canada, South America and every nook of the United States. Some mean well, others seem sick.

"I had always presumed there were a few kooks in the world," Goldman said, "but there are so many kooks you wonder. On the other hand, it is gratifying to know there are so many good people who have wished us well and tried to help."

A woman in Miami said she saw Danny in a picture from the Walling Wall in Jerusalem. A logger in Oregon fit country sent the FBI to a camp in Estacada, Ore. A man in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., said he could sniff out the grave from 25 miles away.

Daniel Jess Goldman would have been 20-years-old recently. His last description had him just under six feet, about 170 pounds, with brown eyes and dark curly brown hair.

ROBERT A. BREWER, of Livonia, has been promoted to the position of manager of data processing operations at GMC Truck & Coach Division. He formerly was general supervisor of systems and programming in the Systems Development group. Brewer resides with his wife and two children at 30154-Bentley in Livonia.

Trotter Tidbits

Terry Buter, the 22-year-old reinsman from Zeeland, Mich., is handling one of the largest stables at the Wolverine Harness meeting at the Detroit Race Course.

A year ago he had a dozen head but already he's training 20 horses. "I'll have 30 in a week or so," the intelligent little fellow tells you.

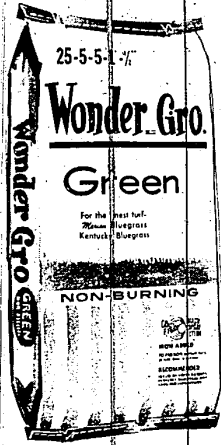

AFTER HIGH SCHOOL Terry went to Grand Rapids Junior College in hopes of majoring in physical education, but training and driving horses for his dad, Glen, soon made him change his mind.

"It's my life now," Terry confesses. "I'm not sorry about the decision."

"Excuse me," he said politely. "I've got to get out on the track." Buter went out and brought home Go's First, Ted Osting's seven-year-old mare, in a driving finish for an $18 mutuel.
