reaches of the state to try for what is widely considered the tastiest, warriest and sportiest of all fishes.

Besides Phoenix Lake, 20 lakes, five ponds and three streams, all in Oakland County, were stocked with trout last year, according to Stephen P. Swain, district fish biologist at the Conservation Department's Pontiac headquarters.

Opening day is Saturday, April 27. (A limited trout and salmon season opened on certain specified waters April 1.)

PHOENIX, however, will get a lot of local attention. Part of the Middle Rouge River, Phoenix Lake was poisoned last fall to kill the predominantly rough fish supply and in October was re-stocked with 7,000 rainbow trout. The rainbows, four or five inches long at the time, should in many cases have reached the legal creel limit of seven inches by opening day.

Phoenix Lake is unlikely to be a trout lake permanently. The trout aren't expected to be able to reproduce there, and eventually the lake will be restocked with bluegill and bass as the permanent population. Meanwhile, it's illegal to fish there until the opening day of April 27.

SIX OTHER lakes have been poisoned and re-stocked so that they will be single species trout lakes this year. All of the others are in Oakland County. Their names and locations: Chittenden Lake, Pontiac Lake Recreation Area, Cooley Lake, Union Lake village, Foley Lake, Pontiac Lake Recreation Area.

Harwig and Munn Lake, both in Holly Recreation Area, Upper Trout Lake, Bald Mountain Recreation Area.

FIFTEEN "two-story" trout lakes were stocked last year. These lakes have a resident warm water fish population, but they also have a cool strata of water capable of supporting trout. These lakes are:

Cedar Island, Cemetery, Crescent, Crooked, Deer, Elizabeth, Horseshoe, Little Silver, Orchard, Osborn, Reed, Schoolhouse, Square, Teepie and Union.

FIVE "SPECIAL" regulation trout ponds have been designated in Oakland County.

Sodding Needs Care To Become 'Instant' Lawn

Sodding can give you a weed-free "instant" lawn that can be established any time of year until September 1. But there are some important guidelines for establishing this turf.

Michigan State University scientists and specialists point out, for example, that sod rooting is most rapid if the sod is cut 1 1/2 to 3/4 inch thick. In other words, harvested sod should have only that much soil clinging to the grass.
