

Plymouth Vaulters Betters School Mark

Bauman Clears 12' 6"

Cleveland Ends Tigers' 9-Game String, 2-0

Hargan Limits Bengals To One Lonely Hit

It may have been cold and damp. But it was still a warm day for Plymouth High's track team. The Rocks got off to a flying start by downing Bentley, 60-58, in what was both Plymouth's first Suburban Six League meet of the season and also the school's first outdoor action. Two record-breaking performances highlighted Plymouth's triumph.

Bruce Bauman, in winning the pole vault, soared to 12 feet, 6 inches and cracked a Plymouth varsity record set way back in 1949 by Jay Wagenschmitt.

Rich Goepf also accounted for a Plymouth mark with a 10:56.4 clocking in finishing second in the two mile. Ken Evans had set the former record of 10:28.4 last season.

Bentley came up with a pair of double winners in Joe Chemello and Bob Spuller.

Chemello won the long jump and the 440-yard run while Spuller hit the finish first in both the dashes. Chemello also ran on the victorious Bentley mile relay.

The results:
Two Mile: 1--McGhie, 2--Goepf (P), 3--Viskocili (P). Time: 10:26.

NEW YORK--The pressure of a long winning streak removed, the Detroit Tigers should find out in the next few days exactly how good they are and how good some of their top rivals are in the American League pennant chase.

Detroit still held a two-game lead when they opened a four-game series with the New York Yankees Friday after dropping a 2-0 verdict in Cleveland to see its nine-game winning streak go by the boards.

Thus ended the longest string of successive Detroit victories since 1949 and crushed the club's hopes of equalling the longest mark in the team's history--114 straight.

But manager Mayo Smith had more to worry about than the streak being snapped.

He was concerned by the ebullience that came in the seventh inning of Wednesday's game when Willie Horton and Ray Oyler bumped into each other while chasing a short fly.

Horton was sent to the hospital, suffering from a mild concussion.

At the same time, the Tigers found themselves short-handed in the pitching department for the Yankee series. Mickey Olich went from Cleveland back home to spend the weekend in the National Guard.

"With four games against the Yankees, it could hurt us," explained Smith.

But the Tigers could look forward to Olich's return to action Monday night when the Detroiters return to Tiger Stadium for a long home stand.

They'll go first against Oakland (former Kansas City) Monday and Tuesday night after which the Minnesota Twins come in for a pair. Then it'll be Baltimore at Tiger Stadium for the weekend.

Livonia's Joe Sparna, de-served a better fate in the Wednesday loss at Cleveland after the weather had killed both teams on Tuesday causing Tiger pilot Smith to scream. He felt that the teams could have played on Tuesday and therefore avoided another doubleheader later in the season.

AS FOR Sparna, the Tigers got only one hit all evening off Jim Hargan. A leadoff single by Jim Northrup in the third inning ruined Hargan's bid for a no-hitter.

He walked only two men and faced a total of 28 in the game. Seven Tigers went down on strikes.

The Tigers also didn't give Sparna the best support in the world.

Cleveland scored in the second when Tony Horton walked, then second on an infield out and came around on a wild throw by Dick McAuliffe.

The collision between Willie Horton and Oyler set up the Tribe's other run in the seventh.

Hargan ran to third when the ball dropped and walked in when Leon Wagner delivered a pinch hit.

Monday's game at Tiger Stadium will be the first night action of the season at home for the Detroit team.

Word of the fatal accident was received by Wolverine officials Tuesday morning. Complete details weren't available but the information was that Leonard was driving on one of the city's major streets during Tuesday's heavy rainstorm when a car, coming in the opposite direction skidded across the center line and hit the oncoming Leonard vehicle head-on.

Leonard was reportedly dead on arrival at the hospital.
