The reapportionment commission filed its 26-member plan last May 12 to beat the May 15 deadline despite the legal problems still contronting

SUBURBAN SPOKESMEN said the plan will dilute local power on the county's legis-lative body. Livonia, for example, now has three members on the board but inder the plan would be forced to chare one seat with Plymouth to share one seat with Plymout

Plymouth Township, Northville, Northville Township, Garden City and Westland round be placed together in a single district. Redord Township would be in a district with Dearborn Heights north of Cherry Hill Road.

Suburban cities where the population has boomed since the last Federal ceisus in 1980 want to wait until after the 1970 census before carving out the districts.
