

Computer Tells What ABC Drivers Are Like

Michigan finally knows the "A-B-C's" of its driving population—that is, it knows what kind of drivers the Abercrombies, the Bannisters, and the Cornwalls are.

Drivers whose names start with A, B, or C are now in computerized files at the Michigan Department of State.

And in a twinkling of an eye—

a whirl of a computer tape—individual records of the more than one million people in the state can be available.

***

FOR INSTANCE, here are some of the facts that are apparent from an overview of these "ABC" drivers.

"ABCs" make up about more than 20 per cent of Michigan's five million drivers—a total of 1,006,010 people.

Male drivers account for 57.2 per cent of the "ABC" driving population, females 42.8 per cent. Only Delaware (45.4), Indiana (45.5), Kansas (45.6), Minnesota (42.0), Nebraska (43.6), Oregon (44.8), and Texas (43.1) had a higher percentage of female drivers than Michigan.

State Flags Are On Sale

Burroughs Promotes Wight To New Post

E.R. Petree, Corporate Director of Procurement, Contracts and Traffic, Burroughs Corporation, has announced the appointment of W.B. "Pete" Wight as Manager, Corporate Procurement Contracts-Electronic.

Prior to joining the corporate staff, Wight had served for ten years as Manager of Purchases at Burroughs Pasadena plant. He joined Burroughs in 1957 as Administrative Assistant to the Director of Manufacturing at Pasadena.

France Honors EMU Linguist

J. Henry Owens, head of the department of foreign language and literature at Eastern Michigan University, will be raised to "officer in the Order of the Palmes Academiques" at the annual honors convocation to be held May 8 in Pease Auditorium, Ypsilanti.

Edouard Morot-Sir, cultural counselor to the French Embassy and permanent representative of the French Universities in the United States, will come from New York to present the medal to Owens.

In 1957 Owens was named a chevalier in the order which was created by Napoleon and which is now administered by the French Ministry of Education. He will be raised to the second rank because of "services rendered to French culture in the United States."

Michigan according to "Highway Statistics - 1966," published by the U.S. Department of Transportation.

Estimates for Michigan on the federal report was 43.2 per cent women drivers. National average for women drivers on the same report for 1966 was 41.1 per cent.

***

WHAT KIND OF drivers are the ABCs of Michigan?

Records indicate that persons in these categories averaged 1.2 convictions for moving violations on the records dating back seven years.

"Our records only go back through the past seven years in anything not connected with four major violation infractions which involve the assessing of six points," Hare said.

"Convictions for felonies, drunk driving, reckless driving, and failure to stop and give identity at the scene of an accident, all six point violations, are kept on records in accordance with Michigan law."

Are the "ABCs" accident-prone? This is a "variable of the survey that cannot be measured with complete accuracy," said Hare.

"Reason is that it was in late 1966 before we received any accident records from the Detroit and Grand Rapids police departments. So, out of an accident average per driver is not valid."

***

THE RATIO of 3.5 moving violations to one accident is also "out of kilter," Hare said.

"I would guess the true ratio in this case would be closer to a one to one," he asserted.

"This fact alone is reason enough for passage of legislation to enable our department to take action against the so-called 'accident-prone' driver, the driver who may not accumulate enough points for action under the point system but who becomes involved in either bad accidents or a larger number of accidents."

Another finding in the records of the ABCs is that there is one summons to appear in court ignored for every 27.5 convictions for moving traffic violations issued.

Hare said he didn't expect to find anything "startlingly different," as records of the rest of Michigan's driving population are entered into computer record files and studied.
