

OCC Hopefuls Quizzed

 "INCUMBENT HACKETT on systems approach: 'I favor it when it frees the teacher for more time with a student.' On shared governing: 'I would like to see the day when the power to make decisions is equal.' Hackett also said that OCC must provide more job-oriented courses and provide ways to move the campus to the student. 'Money can be better spent than for gas lights, I would give no blank check to any administration. We must keep faith with the taxpayers.'"

ACTION LADY — Mrs. John J. Riordan, 32395 Leelanee, Farmington, is shown receiving her check as third place winner in a contest calling for "Action Suggestions" to promote inter-racial understanding. Presenting the check is Thomas J. Umlauf, chairman of the board, Gordon Sausage Co., sponsors of the contest which was announced in The Michigan Catholic.

Housewife Calls For Communicate-In

"We have love-ins, sit-ins, why not have a communicate-in?"
 With this thought, Mrs. John J. Riordan, 32395 Leelanee, Farmington, developed an idea for an "Action Suggestion" to aid in impelling the white and black community to greater understanding and to promote the cause of non-violence.
 For her idea, Mrs. Riordan also won $50.
 IT CAME about this way: Motivated by the assassination of the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., the Gordon Sausage Company of Detroit, led by chairman of the Board Thomas J. Umlauf, ran a full page ad in the April 11 issue of The Michigan Catholic calling for "Action Suggestions" to promote inter-racial understandings.
 The contest, open to all, was of particular interest to Mrs. Riordan because of the current emphasis on human relations by her church, Our Lady of Sorrows.
 Her suggestion was so good she placed third in the contest which attracted entries from the entire metropolitan area.
 As developed, the idea called for group therapy, conducted by a trained psychologist, with police and Negroes as participants. The sessions would be held at a city's time and expense and would be voluntary if possible.
 Mrs. RIORDAN says she was surprised that her suggestion won a prize. She comments, "My suggestion is not for any kind of immediate action—it would be a long, quiet process.
 "When you carry on this sort of conversation, your hidden prejudices and behavior patterns come to the surface and can be recognized," she notes.
 She sums up, "During the trouble in Memphis, I heard three different newscasters broadcast with three different views. Then the participants must have had different views. With all those different viewpoints it's no wonder there is misunderstanding."

Briar Hill Notes

It was quite a thrill for Gail, Jack and I as we watched John jump 6'7" in the high jump event at the Regional Track Meet at Madison Heights last Saturday. As far as we know, this is the high school record this year.
 Jack's parents are coming from Akron, Ohio on May 24 to attend a family wedding and then on Saturday, May 25, we will all be in Ann Arbor at the state meet hoping to see John take first place in the high jump.
 His sister, Debbie, will be coming from Albion to watch and also for us to take her out for dinner as it's her birthday on May 25th. We hope it will be a double celebration.
 TWO NEIGHBORS will be wishing each other a happy birthday on May 27—Monica Hig and Harry Edge. May we add our best wishes.
 Mary Helen Trussell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bowman of St. Petersburg, Fla., have been with her this month. Last week she also entertained relatives from Niles who stayed overnight. June will find them all going north to open the family cottage.
 When school is over in June, there will be quite an exodus of families leaving—Lois and Hero Holmes, Ruth and Stan Steiner, Doreen and Dick Echeles, Margaret and Pat Lupio,

Canterbury Commons

This past week was a busy one for many people here in Canterbury Commons.

Girl Scout Troop 226 had a weekend campout at Camp Nar-rin near Ortonville. Twenty-six girls attended and they all had a grand time in the good weather. The only thing to mar the trip was the Sunday morning rain which forced them to cook breakfast indoors. Leaders for the trip were Marge Jellison, Muriel Schaefer, Velma Zeek, and Joan Kuzinski.

Congratulations to Marge and Bob Byrne, who this past week became grandparents of twins. The Byrnes live on Foxgrove Rd.

RUTH AND JACK Williamson, of Foxgrove Rd., entertained 22 people at a luau. All wore Hawaiian clothing for the evening. The highlight of the Williamson's recent trip to Hawaii were shown on film to the guests.

Congratulations to Sharna DuFresne, of Foxgrove Rd., who won a prize on the Dialing for Dollars TV quiz program. Sharna, her husband Al, and the children David, 6, Kathy, 4, and Jeanine, 1 1/2, were all invited to the TV station on May 15 to pick up the prize.

Please remember Jean Frye, of Foxgrove Rd., with your best wishes and get well cards. Jean has been in University Hospital in Ann Arbor, but should be home at the time of this publication.

LAST WEEKEND was a big occasion for Dick Knop, of Foxgrove Rd., who was honored at two surprise birthday parties.

Friday night, Dick's two brothers from Chicago, Doris's sister, and friends from Wisconsin came to help Dick celebrate his 40th birthday. On Saturday, Doris had 30 more people in for another surprise party. Happy Birthday, Dick!

Dorothy Vickland, of Millane Dr., was installed as secretary of the Hill and Dale Garden Club. Nancy Passfield, of Foxgrove Rd., is outgoing president.

Congratulations to Cindy Tarpinian, of Fernhill Dr., who was elected secretary of Dunckel Junior High Student Council.
