

Enemy Shelling Boosts Civilian Toll In Saigon

SAIGON -- Enemy shelling of South Vietnam's capital continued over the weekend, sending the official civilian toll to 195 killed and 672 wounded since the offensive against the city began five weeks ago. A member of the South Vietnamese House of Representatives, Ngo Cong Duc, called for a halt in the U.S.-North Vietnamese negotiations in Paris if the Vietcong continues shelling civilian areas.

SAIGON -- Gen. William C. Westmoreland has received South Vietnam's highest decoration, the Vietnamese National Order First Class, from President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Westmoreland, who has been commander of American forces in South Vietnam for more than four years, leaves next week to become the Army's Chief of Staff in Washington.

LONDON -- Queen Elizabeth II celebrated her official 42nd birthday Saturday. Her actual birthday is in April, but the event is officially celebrated in June, when the weather is better. In spite of the date change, it rained.

PARIS -- Former French Premier Georges Bidault, a bitter personal enemy of President Charles de Gaulle, returned to France Saturday after several years in exile. The charges against him were lifted. He had headed a resistance movement against de Gaulle during the Algerian War. Bidault, who is 67, was accused of plotting against the security of the nation, but never was tried or convicted.

PORT ELIZABETH, S. Africa -- The city council in Port

Elizabeth, which is located on the Indian Ocean, has brushed aside an appeal from the public morals commission of the powerful Dutch Reformed Church to legislate against women's beach wear which exposes the body indecently in public.

WORLD ROUNDUP

PARIS -- U.S. and North Vietnamese negotiators resumed talks Wednesday after a week-long recess, during which chief negotiators W. Averell Harriman and Cyrus R. Vance of the U.S. attended the funeral of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

PARIS -- French President Charles de Gaulle has appealed for massive public support of his proposals in the June 23-30 referendum, saying that everything depends on the voting results. "The republic, liberty, progress, independence and peace," He added that if the election results were not favorable, "all is lost." Millions of workers have returned to their jobs at wages substantially higher than those before the general strikes which rocked the nation.

MOSCOW -- Yevgeny Yevtushenko, a young Russian poet, recited a poem on the death of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy over Moscow television last week. The poem:

"You are shooting yourself America. You can kill yourself this way."
"You promised to be the conscience of the world."
"But beside the shameful abyss."
"You are not shooting at Martin Luther King."
"But at your own conscience."
"You are bombing Vietnam, and along with this,"
"You are bombing your honor."
"Go rise, stricken Statue of Liberty."
"And condemn the freedom to kill."

DUBLIN -- Would you believe: A 12-foot monster that jumps like a kangaroo and has a head like a sheep has been sighted by several Irishmen in County Mayo. The Irish say their monster lives in the depths of Glendarry Lake near Achill Sound.

SAIGON -- Maj. Gen. Nguyen Ngoc Loan, who made international headlines with his on-the-street execution of a Viet Cong captured during the Tet offensive, has been replaced as head of South Vietnam's national police force. No reason was given for the replacement, but political observers speculated that the change was made because the former chief is expected to be hospitalized for some time with wounds suffered in street fighting in May.

OSLO -- Large concentrations of Soviet troops, tanks and artillery operated Saturday just across the Norwegian border from a 12,300-man NATO exercise.
