

TRUCKLOAD OF THOUGHTFULNESS — A "do-it-yourselfers" dream pulled onto the grounds of Detroit House of Correction recently — a pick-up truck loaded with benches, vices, drill press, belt sander, arc welder outfit, you name it. The machinery was the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller, 27721 Bennett, Livonia, to Winky, the Dehoco inmate who makes braces for crippled children at Plymouth State Home and Training School. The Millers (he owns H. M. Tools in Detroit) read about Winky's ill-equipped prison workshop in The Livonia Observer — and promptly set out to provide the larger equipment that dollar donations couldn't buy. The Millers said they know of the invaluable work Winky and other inmates do for physically handicapped children. They have a daughter who is an outpatient at Plymouth State Home.
