Knowing the altitude of the pole, but of the pole star, five traveled the pole has increased or decreased ince north or south till we find that the pole has increased or decreased a degree in altitude, it is evident from what has been said that we have traveled a degree on the earth's surface, affi if we measure the distance in miles traveled over, making due allowance for elevated the distance, and if we multiply this in the distance, and if we divided this circumference by 3.1-7 we get the dismeter. The length of a degree, and if we divided this circumference of the dismeter. The length of a degree of latitude on the earth's surface is found by actual measurement to be 69 1-10 miles, which multiplied by 300, gives 24,876 miles in the circumference of the carth, and which distance, divided by 3.1-7, gives about 8,000 miles distance, and describes the travelence of the carth, and which distance, divided by 3.1-7, gives about 8,000 miles distance, divided by 3.1-7, gives about 8,000 miles distance, divided the carth and which distance, divided by 3.1-16, the mean diameter. The eards theater would alvide by 3.1-16. The mean diameter of the carth is nearly 7,965 miles.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

MEASURING. THE EARTH.

The Pole Star is the Guide to the Solution of the Preblem.

As the earth is a sphere, its magnitude will depend on the length of its diameter or its circumference flut how can the length of either than the surface of the carth in a great teried to make the rest of her circumference, mor is it in the earth in a great teried to make the rest of suffering the extremely painful.
