Council Meets At Berkley; Elects 1950-51 Officers

The Inter-Lakes Student Council met December 4 at Berkley to elect new officers.

Jim Bates of Farmington was elected president. Shirley Hale of Keego Harbor was elected vice-president; Joyce Fagg of Berkley, secretary; and Gail Maldment of Farmington was elected treasurer.

The Council was organized in 1947 to improve relations of the schools in the league.

The president and secretary of each Council are permanent members and two rotating members are elected from the individual Councils before each meeting so that each school has four votes.

Whatever it is your duty to do, you can do without harm to yourself.

SENIORS MAKE BADGES TO RAISE MONEY FOR BUSES

To make money to charter buses and pay the drivers for the Keego Harbor game, Farmington High Seniors made pep badges to sell for ten cents.

Seniors volunteered and gave up study halls to work on them. By sixth hour Wednesday, December 6, 280 badges were completed.

The badges were made from blue construction paper with a white F for Falcons painted on them. Beat Keego was also painted on them.

The badges were sold in classes and study hall Thursday and Friday. J. L. G.

Administration Gives School Bus Permit Cards

The administration is issuing school bus permits to every student who rides a bus to and from school, regularly or irregularly.

In previous years, problems have arisen concerning the school buses. For example, students might ride the most convenient bus, thus causing one to be over-crowded while another might have vacant seats. There was also no way of telling who was on the vehicle.

On the new permit cards are the students' names, addresses, and grade. The bus and trip number are also listed.

The student may go only on the bus indicated on his card. If an occasion arises when he must ride on a different one, he must obtain another card from the office for the ride on that bus.

By assigning buses to students, the administration can even the loads, and if needed, draw up a new route. S. L.

Cheerleaders Give Pep Rally Before Keego Game

Farmington High's second basketball pep meeting of the season was given by the high school cheerleaders last Friday. The meeting preceded the Farmington - Keego Harbor game.

To bring out the enthusiasm of the student body, the cheerleaders began the pep meeting by shouting, "What's the good word?" The answer "Beat Keego!" was returned.

For entertainment, the six cheerleaders, Virginia Fryhoff, Helen Siggins, Gerry Haskins, Jackie Pfeiffer, Dorothy Cant, and Charlotte Mathews, presented a radio program skit. In it, songs were sung, clever commercials were given, and new cheers were introduced which were learned at the Cheerleaders' Clinic held at the University of Michigan on November 14, 1950.

The pep meeting closed with a "Beat Team", and the school song, "Fight for Farmington." J. M.

OUR FUTURE IS AT STAKE

We of our generation remember vaguely that disastrous date, December 7, 1941, when the Japanese bombed Pearl Harbor. However, the following four years brought events remembered clearly by all of us — that moment when word came we would never see our big brother again — the worry-worn faces of our relatives and friends which grew old with anxiety while hoping for word from loved ones missing on the fighting fronts.

The inevitable outcome of a Pearl Harbor — loved ones gone forever, great personal sacrifices — seem a dear price to pay for a promised world peace. Yet it looked worthwhile at the time. Now, on the ninth anniversary of Pearl Harbor, we are wondering if it was all in vain.

We suspect that all of us including the youth behind the Iron Curtain, have one basic feeling about it all. Our only desire is world peace. Yet we are the victims of our freedom. We, the innocent victims of one world war, are now faced with another world tragedy. Frankly, we suspect also that few of us know WHY. Nor is there any reason for us to believe that another war will bring an enduring peace. What has happened to the promise for World Peace when the U. N. was formed? Has it failed completely? Or can we hope that through its guidance a formula can be discovered to solve disputes between nations.

It is the youth of today and tomorrow whose happiness, hopes, and security are at stake. We must encourage our leaders to exhaust every means to settle world disputes and to avoid war. G. F.

Men of vision or imagination are never discouraged, because their eyes are ever on the day of victory.

What we see depends mainly on what we look for.

FARMINGTON BEATS BOTH HOLLY TEAMS IN DEBATE CONTEST

The two Farmington debate teams defeated Holly in a tournament at Walled Lake Thursday.

The Clarenceville teams dropped both debates to Northville while the two negative teams of Walled Lake and Milford won. The three judges for the debates were from the University of Michigan.

Neither Farmington's affirmative team, Myrna Hurkett and Don Stephen, nor its negative team, June Turner and Charles Tulip, have lost a debate thus far this year.

The two victories Thursday put Farmington in first place in the league. The standings are as follows:

Teams	Won	Lost
Farmington	4	0
Northville	3	1
Milford	2	2
Clarenceville	2	2
Walled Lake	1	3
Holly	0	4

Students from Walled Lake acted as chairmen for the debates and Farmington's second squad kept time.

Farmington's next opponent will be Clarenceville in a debate tournament at Clarenceville Wednesday. R. P.
