MRS. MOSEMAN HEADS RED-CROSS NURSING SERVICE

Mrs. Edward Moseman of Farmington, chairman of Nursing Services for the Oakland County Red Cross, announced this week that local chapters have been asked to train four times as many women in home care of the sick in 1951 as were trained in 1950.

According to Mrs. Moseman this would call for a total of 1600 trainees in Oakland County. She reports that groups wishing to organize classes of 15 to 25 persons may contact her at Farmington 0271 or the American Red Cross at Lincoln 2-6700 or Federal 4-3575 to obtain an instructor.

The twelve-hour class will include such phases of simple nursing skills as how to follow the doctor's instructions, bathing a patient in bed, planning meals for the sick and taking temperatures. Purpose of the classes requested by the Civil Defense Department is to release as many doctors and trained nurses as possible to care for the critically ill and injured.

Mrs. Moseman is a director of the Red Cross from the Farmington area.

NEW HOPE

He faltered, fell, discouraged,
By the cruel blows of fate,
He arose; with renewed hope,
For the opportunities that lie ahead;

On Mountain, Plain, or Valley
In the path of life
He could not see the diadem
That waits at the journey's end

And with an I WILL, He entered
The HIGHWAY of 1951.

SKUNK ATTENDS BROWNIE PARTY AT CHURCH

A skunk named "Petunia" was one of the guests of honor January 3 at the Brownie Girl Scout party held at the Methodist Church by all five Farmington Brownie troops. More than 80 girls and 15 women attended the party.

The skunk, a tame one, was one of the animals brought to the party by Miss Mary Brockhaus, supervisor of the Children's Zoo of the Detroit Zoological Gardens. She also brought a Peruvian guinea pig and a feather-footed rooster.

After seeing lantern slides of animals and zoo flowers, the troops entertained Miss Brockhaus with Brownie songs.

WE MADE IT . . .

We got all our cans and boxes and jars and bottles counted. Boy — we're glad that's done — and we only found a few things we wanna git rid of. First off we got a lot of fruits and vegetables packed in their natural juices — no sugar or syrup added. If you can use these dietetic foods yuh can save yerself some money cause we're gonna sell the whole works for 19c a can. Then we found we had too much Crosse and Blackwell chili sauce. If we was to tell yuh we'd sell yuh 2 bottles fer just 49c could yuh git interested? We got a couple cans of Hills Coffee, too. We sorta thought you'd be happy if we'd give yuh a chance to buy some of that fer 83c a can. Yuh can have a whole case if yuh want it. We don't care. Say — have yuh ever thought about bakin' your own bread? If yuh wanna try we got some Pillsbury flour. Fer just 49c yuh can git 5 lbs. of it. We like hot bread down here with our morning coffee — didcha know that??

If yuh don't wanna use the flour fer bread yuh could use some of it fer some noodles or some dumplings to go around one of our stewin' hens. We got 'em all table dressed fer jest 69c a lb. Or maybe yuh aint ready fer fowl yet — maybe yuh'd jest as soon have a plain old meat loaf. We got the makin' fer that too. A 1 lb. package of rolled sausage is jest 45c and yuh can git a pound of our fresh ground beef fer 63c a lb. Sumthin' else, too — do you like sharp cheese? We've got some. They tell me it's New York sharp. I dunno if that makes it any better than if it came from Wisconsin, but I'm supposed to be sure and tell you that this New York sharp cheese is jest 69c a lb. Criminy — I hope somebody comes in and gits a pound or they won't believe I ever mentioned it. You will — wontcha?
