The machine consists of a pivoted crate holder supported by a rigid frame in such a way that filled crates can be quickly end easily raised and dumped. Leverage and a strong spring, aids the operator. During the dumping operation, the flow of truit is regulated so that bruising is materially reduced.

The dumper was tested in commercial packing houses during the capacity of several hundred bushels an hour. The use of the dumper made it easy for the operator to control the flow of fruit so there
