FEW CHANGES AS ELECTION RESULT

Village Election Passes Quietly
With but one Ticket
in the Field

Farmington's village election held Monday, was not an exciting affair as there was but one ticket in the field. The trustees, Messrs. Nichols, Pauline and Meyers, having previously served the community faithfully, need no introduction, while Messrs. Maas and Thayer as treasurer and assessor, respectively are well known as trusted officials.

Therefore the only new members of the official family are George L. Francis the new president and B. Forest Pierson, clerk. These men are thoroughly well known and have the utmost confidence of the whole community. The new official family is one that inspires confidence.

Enterprise in new Hands

With this issue of the Enterprise the former editor and owner relinquishes his interest and control and the paper passes into the hands of Mr. L. Arch Price.

Mr. Price comes to Farmington from Colorado and brings with him an abundance of the best recommendations. He is a young man with plenty of experience, both as a successful newspaper man with both daily and weekly newspaper training, and in addition is a practical printer.

His whole time and energy will be given to the upbuilding of Farmington and this vicinity, and the retiring editor asks for him the consideration that his efforts will merit and deserve.

Signs with Syracuse

Through the showing made against Willard House of the Tigers, Clarence Hutchins, Redford's star hurler, has secured a try-out with the Syracuse team of the New York State League, a class B organization. The contract was secured through honorable mention given Clarence after the afternoon game against Farmington last Come All-Yes, by Frank Navin, owner of the Tigers, who attended the game expecting to see his man House put the locals away. Hutchins manager is Freddie Payne, who was four years with the Tigers and two with the White Sox before taking over the reins for Syracuse.—Redford Record.

Mr. Hutchins has for some time past been employed as a barber in the Chamberlin shop and is well known here.

HEART FAILURE CAUSE OF DEATH

Joseph P. Smith, old Resident of North Farmington Passes
Away—Funeral from home

Joseph P. Smith was found dead at his home in North Farmington Sunday morning, by Lloyd Hosmer, a neighbor. It is believed that heart trouble was the cause of death, being stricken while sitting in a chair smoking. Beside the chair was a basket of groceries, which he had purchased at North Farmington Saturday morning and it is thought that he passed away shortly after returning to his home Saturday.

Mr. Smith was about 67 years of age and a well known resident of North Farmington. He lived alone and seemed in his usual health when last seen by his friends. Three children survive him: Charles of Redford, Clarence of Ypsilanti and Mrs. Lydia Carr of Pinckney. There are also eight grandchildren: one brother, Edwin Smith of Farmington, and two sisters, Mrs. Ellen Church of St. Johns and Mrs. Julia Walters of Farmington.

The funeral was held from the home Tuesday afternoon and interment was made in North Farmington cemetery.

The infant son born to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Finch last week died at their home last Sunday at the age of four days. The little body was taken to Lakeview and laid to rest in the cemetery near their former home. Mrs. Will Crumbly of Detroit, an aunt of Mr. Finch, accompanied the remains. Mr. and Mrs. Finch have made many friends since their residence here who deeply sympathize with them in the loss of their beautiful child.
