Winter Diets May Lack Vitamins

How is your children's winter diet, asks Mary Lewis, of the foods and nutrition department of Michigan State College's school of home economics.

Compare the diet with a recent check on the winter time meals of a hundred Michigan school children. In the main, the children were provided with milk and meat. Breads, cereals, cakes and cookies were eaten in abundance. But few children were given at least one serving of a green or yellow vegetable.

Scarcely any had a fresh fruit or vegetable salad; and almost two-thirds had no dependable source of Vitamin C.

Green and yellow vegetables are rich in Vitamin A, cites the foods and nutrition authority. This vitamin aids in maintaining the normal health of the protective membranes lining the nose and throat. They are the body's "front-line defenses" against harmful bacteria.

Canned tomatoes, tomato juice, grapefruit and oranges, along with the juices from these fruits, are the very best sources of Vitamin C that are on the market during these winter months.

Two Dishes Easy on Purse and Palate

BY EDNA MILES

WITH soaring food prices threatening to pop the lid off the food budget each week, dishes that combine economy, nutrition and taste appeal find an important spot in the meal-planner's book.

Macaroni, spaghetti and egg noodle dishes fit this category and because they lend themselves to wide variation with sauces, cheese, leftover meat, fish and vegetables, may be repeated often without loss of flavor.

This spaghetti with white clam sauce is a quickie, too. Less than 15 minutes preparation should do it.

Spaghetti With White Clam Sauce (four servings)
Two tablespoons chopped fresh parsley, 1 chopped clove garlic, 1 chopped onion, ¼ cup olive oil, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 large can minced clams, 1 package thin spaghetti.

Brown parsley, onion and garlic in hot olive oil until ingredients are cooked. Season with salt and pepper. Add clams and simmer for about 5 minutes. Don't overcook or clams will become hard. Drop spaghetti in boiling salted water. Keep water boiling. Stir occasionally. When tender, run cold water into hot water. Drain and serve with sauce.

Macaroni and Cheese Supreme (six servings)
One pound jumbo macaroni, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ pound American cheddar cheese, ½ cup buttered bread crumbs. Cook macaroni in boiling salted water. Drain and place in casserole. Melt butter in sauce pan, add flour and blend. Add milk and stir slowly until sauce thickens. Season.

Flake cheese and scatter over macaroni. Cover the top with buttered bread crumbs. Four ounces over all and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes.

Fish, like humans, are subject to attack by a variety of microbes, viruses and parasitic worms.

Doyse Ward, Joanne Hunter Speak Vows At Methodist Church March 10

White gladioli and candelabra scented the altar of the Farmington Methodist Church March 10 when Joanne Mae Hunter and Doyse Earl Ward were married at a double ceremony performed by Rev. A. Stanley Stone.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vanda H. Hunter of 13968 Dolphin, Detroit. Mr. Ward is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ward of Novi, who live at 4275 Grand River. He operates a service station in New Hudson at Grand River and Beck Roads.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin with princess style waistline, lace peplum, richelleu lace collar, and long train. Her headpiece was composed of a crown of lilies of the valley. White camellias and hollyhocks on a Bible with white satin streamers were carried by the bride. Matron of honor, groomed in an emerald organza over silk green taffeta, was Mrs. Jane Danzica, a sister of the bride. She carried a bouquet of Johanna Hill roses.

Bridesmaids at the 2 p.m. ceremony were Mrs. Sue Gattner and Mary Alice Johnson. They were groomed in emerald organza over shrimp color taffeta. Both wore white hats of net to match their gowns, and carried yellow carnations.

Fred Johns was best man at the ceremony, and Bill Clemens and Clarence Ledford were ushers. Charlene Hunter, a niece of the bride, was flower girl.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hunter chose gray silk with contracting accessories, and wore a corage of red roses. Red roses were also worn by the bride's mother, who wore blue crepe with a lace yoke, and blue and beige accessories.

Mrs. Marge Burdick, organist, played the traditional recessional from Lohengrin, and accompanied Mrs. Grace Brown, who sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the church parlors, decorated for the occasion with baskets of white gladioli. A four tiered wedding cake graced the lace-covered and flower decked table. Mrs. Merle Andrews and the Ladies Aid group of the church served approximately 125 guests.

After the reception, the bride and groom were served a turkey dinner at the Sea Food Grotto. They were joined by Lester Ward, the groom's brother, who flew here from Camp McCoy for the wedding. The couple will be at home March 25 at 27053 Wayne Road in their new house after a wedding trip to Florida and Havana, Cuba.

The Blue Star Mothers have completed 17 laprobes for veterans at Percy Jones Hospital and will plan as many more for the Dearborn Veterans' Hospital, where they visit March 22.

Farmington and Novi chapters of the Blue Star Mothers sponsored an Easter Party for the 109 veterans at the William H. Mayberry sanatorium near Northville on Wednesday, March 21. Each veteran was visited personally and given his traditional Easter basket filled with needed articles and plenty of "goodies."

A report from the Blue Star Mothers rehabilitation home on Indian Lake in Oakland County put the Farmington chapter as one of the highest contributors in financial gifts this past year. Working with veterans' organizations, our home is proving very helpful for many of our veterans needing a rest and rehabilitation in a home where quietness and good food is the keynote for regaining health.

We have a veteran in charge of the foundation. Mr. Gardner gave up his business to take this position because he believes that we have something worthwhile.

The Department of Michigan Blue Star Mothers of America will hold their 1951 convention in the Book Cadillac hotel at Detroit on June 3 to 6.

Mrs. Harry Brundie and Mrs. Margaret Mahoney will be the hostesses for the luncheon and card party at the Town Hall Wednesday, April 11, 12:30 p.m. The public is invited to these luncheons.

The next regular business meeting will be held in the Town Hall Thursday, April 12, at 1 p.m. President Mrs. Ethel Lint was absent from our last meeting because of illness.

This week represents the 32nd anniversary of the American Legion, an organization known throughout the world.

Thirty-two years have passed since that spring in Paris when our men banded together to form the Legion. It was on March 15, 16 and 17, "Peace and spring were in the air; the sound of battle had ceased in the Western Front, and in Flanders only the poppies whispered across the fresh graves of our heroes. These men of ours came home, and in the ensuing years worked for the service of their community, state and nation. Wives and mothers of these men joined together to become the Auxiliary.

Thursday night, March 22, the Legion Post will celebrate by having a birthday dinner. It will begin at 7 p.m. A film will be shown following the dinner.

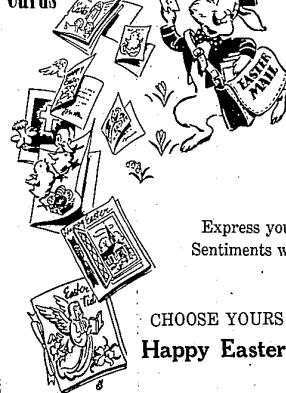

Pfc. Richard DeVriendt, better known as "Corky", son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeVriendt, is attending school at the Keeler Air Force Base, near Jackson, Mississippi. He attends school three hours a day for 39 weeks. He expects to get home for a short furlough in the near future.

The 17th District holds its next meeting at Clawson, Michigan, on Friday, April 6.

The next regular meeting of the Legion Post will be on Thursday, April 5.

Here's another reminder: the Legion Post and Auxiliary Unit are looking for new members. Come on in and help us fight for liberty and justice for all.

FORD WINS AGAIN!

V-8 TAKES FIRST PLACE IN CLASS "A" 1951 MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN

Both Ford V-8 and SIX Deliver more than 25.9 miles per gallon

Grueling 840-mile test proves Ford Economy

Again this year... it's high honors for Ford in the most important economy trial for American stock model cars... the famous annual Mobilgas Economy Run... A Ford 100-h.p. V-8 equipped with Overdrive took first place competing against all cars in its price class, making 64,587 ton-miles per gallon and 25,594 miles per gallon. And its companion in quality, the new Ford 100-h.p. with Overdrive, was right up there with the winner. In fact, both cars averaged better than 25.9 miles per gallon.

Traditional Ford economy, for the second straight year, has been proved in open competition. Proved on the tough 840-mile grid from Los Angeles to the Grand Canyon... a course that included city traffic, below-sea-level desert heat and 7,000-foot mountain passes. Ford's Automatic Mileage Maker, standard equipment on all Ford V-8's and SIXES, contributed to this great achievement by squeezing the last mile out of every drop of gasoline.

Why not "Test Drive" the new Ford at your neighborhood Ford Dealer's? There's no better way to be convinced that "You can pay more but you can't buy better."

"The AAA Contest Board determines the winner by a 'ton-mile per gallon' formula to insure equal chance for all cars in each class regardless of size and weight. Ton-miles per gallon equals the car weight (including passengers) in tons, multiplied by number of miles traveled, divided by number of gallons of gasoline consumed."
