"CHARACTERS" IN JUNIOR CLASS PLAY PRODUCTION

The Junior Play will be presented April 7 at 8:15 in the high school auditorium.

The play really has some "characters". Among them are:

Grandpa, Bob Hammond. Quiet, reserved man with a great amount of wisdom and wit.

Penny Sycamore, Carolyn Gardner. An artistic, slightly eccentric mother who loves her children but would rather write or paint.

Alice Sycamore, Aylene Aho. Lovely girl about twenty-two. She seems to not have been touched by the mild insanity which the others have.

Paul Sycamore, Eugene McCracken. A man with a quiet, mild manner and whose only interest is fireworks.

East Carmichael, Noreen Hamlin. A young girl about 13 with a curious pixie air, supposedly a ballet dancer.

Ed Carmichael, Dale Gillespie. Ed's devoted husband, who is interested in piano playing, mark making and printing presses.

Rheba, Norma Denington. Colored maid. Thinks up very original menus. (Cornflakes).

Donald, Ken O'Kan. Rheba's devoted boy friend who is living on relief.

Mr. DePina, Norman Raupp. A friend who helps Paul with his fireworks. He has a very drab sense of humor.

Boris Kolenkov, Wayne Aldrich. A Russian teacher who is upset over Russian politics.

Tony, Don Byrne. Young man fresh out of Yale. Fits all requirements of the boss's son.

Mr. Kirby, Don Stephen. A wall street banker. Stuffy but changeable.

Henderson, Jim Fanning. An income tax collector who is stunned by the household.

Three men, Bud Presley, Jerry Stone and Peter Caulkins. Three tough men from the Department of Justice.

Wellington, Sally DeLong. An inebriated actress who Penny found on the top of a bus.

Olga, Phyllis Pringle. Grand Duchess from Russia. Works in Child's Restaurant.

Mrs. Kerby, Ann Louisa. A dignified, well-to-do woman who is astonished by the Sycamores. C. G.

Here And There With The Alumni

Pat Bradley is finally separating from his first love. He announced last week that he was planning to sell his motorcycle.

The Army has its eye on some more of the FHS alumni. Bob Weaver and Harvey Barbee went down for their physicals last week.

Tom Sechler and Duane Leach both received their questionnaires.

Laura (Hutton) Snyder married Loyce Snyder of Breckinridge, Michigan, on Palm Sunday. They both attend Michigan State.

Phyllis Hough is going to school to become a key-punch operator for the Edison Company. She lives at the Y. W. C. in Detroit. Also, Joanne Stroben has a tie job at the Edison Company as a typist and file clerk.

Carol (Paschke) Att is now living in Howell, Michigan.

Doris Gieskowitz is now working at Crowley's. Julie Brunette is working hard at A.A.A. and Dolores Wilke is working at Consumers Gas in the Guardian Building in Detroit.

Jack Hübner was home from the Air Force last week end. He is stationed in Virginia now.

Dorothy (Simon) Markham is home from Philadelphia.

Sue Sweden and Ray Matlary are planning their wedding for May 10. They will live in Ann Arbor.

Bruce Treweek has pledged Delta Tau Delta. J. H.

More than 100 different safety devices, machines, and methods have been introduced into American mines in the past 20 years.

First Publication Honor Assembly To Commend Students On Three Staffs

The First Publications Honor Assembly will be held April 19 at Farmington High.

Approximately 50 members of the Blue and White, Falcon, or Yearbook staffs will be given certificates for their contributions to the publications. Each of these organizations will share in the presentation of the program.

The traditional Quill and Scroll candlelight ceremony will be abandoned," said Mr. Leo Peal, Blue and White advisor. This year's Quill and Scroll's part in the program will be in the form of a new broadcast in which new members of the Society will be announced and given pins. Paul Jones will act as narrator.

The Falcon staff, under the direction of Miss Virginia Carlow, will present a skit written by June Turner. It will depict the production of one issue of the Falcon.

The Yearbook staff, whose advisor is Mr. Arthur Christensen, has not made a final decision concerning the program.

Permanent officers will be elected in May for next year. A constitution will not be drawn up until then. No membership roll will be completed this semester.

The group hopes to invite teachers from all grades and subject fields to talk to them about proper student requirements for the various fields and also any other problems pertinent to them.

Interested persons are invited to attend any or all meetings. They will be held every other week. There are no dues. A. M.

LIBRARY CLUB SELECTS, BUYS BEST SELLERS

From the fines collected during the year, the library purchases 12 new books and three duplicates chosen by the Library Club members.

1. "And Both Were Young" by L. Engle. A tender novel about the love that grows between two young people who accidentally meet in Switzerland.

2. "The Divine Comedy" by Dante. An experience for lovers of classic poetry.

3. "The Cardinal" by Robinson. An American priest, who becomes a Prince of the Roman Catholic Church; encounters numerous soul-testing problems. Pages are filled with laughter, longing and tenderness.

4. "Skymountain" by Walden. A romantic story of a beautiful and sophisticated girl who is ostracized by her wealth until she suddenly faces with the problem of earning a living.

5. "Pilgrim's Progress" by Bunyan. "The best seller of the ages" next to the Bible. No one can afford to admit that he hasn't read it.

6. "Homeward Bound" by Chatterton. The story of a European orphan boy taken into his first home since concentration camp. He doesn't fit into the home life of this American family. It is a very moving and emotional story. S. L.

F.N.C. Needs White Cloth For Cancer Pad Projects

The Farmington High Future Nurses Club began work on cancer pads at their last meeting, March 2.

The girls, under the direction of Miss Buck, elementary teacher, and Mrs. Immonen, school nurse, are learning how to make cancer pads and how to apply them to patients.

The club needs clean white material badly, so all donations from townspeople and students would be appreciated.

Mrs. Immonen and Miss Marta, Noble elementary teacher, attended the School Nurse's Workshop meeting sponsored by the Michigan Department of Health and the Michigan Department of Public Instruction.

On April 15, all the junior and senior members of the Future Nurses Club are planning to attend the Practical Nurse's Open House Tea at Goldberg's School in Detroit.

Inter-Lakes Councils Give Talent Assembly

The Inter-Lakes Student Council Talent Show, composed of leading performers from the league schools, was held at a special assembly on March 23.

The program began with a major routine and a tap dance trio from Walled Lake.

Second on the program was a display of Keego Harbor's talent, a girl sang and a boy sang, accompanying himself with a guitar.

The "Beauty Shop Quartet", consisting of four girls from Berkley High, presented a medley of old favorites. Also from Berkley, a young girl pantomimed the gay ninety tune, "I Don't Care."

Farmington's Lois Ayres and Deane Domes played a piano duet to "Fiddle Faddle". Pianist Sylvia Bates, winner of Farmington, closed the program by playing "Bumble Boogie".

Jim Bates was master of ceremonies. J. M.

Researchers are now using some methods to test wood without destroying it. These exacting methods can permit safer construction of wood aircraft frames, ladders and scaffolds.

Barbara Howle Receives Scholarship From Central

Barbara Howle, Farmington High Senior, who plans to be a history teacher, has received a scholarship from Central Michigan College.

Barbara's application was chosen by the state and is renewable every two years providing she maintains a "B" average.

She intends to major in history and minor in library and Spanish. G. F.
