MARILOU PETERSMARK

Mrs. and Mrs. Petersmark of 2115 Wadsworth Road have announced the engagement of their daughter Marilou to Pvt. Ernest Meacham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Meacham of 30311 LaMar Road, A. Ferndale. The wedding is being planned.

Joanna Gervelieve Wild, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wild of Ferndale, was married Saturday evening at Clarenceville Methodist church to George Frank Adams of Ferndale. The bride is former Farmington resident, residing on Melburn street prior to moving to Ferndale two years ago.

Catherine Wild, the bride's sister, was maid of honor at the wedding, and Betty Oliver and Barbara Adams were bridesmaids. Best man was Richard Wild, the bride's uncle, and ushers were Billy Wild, Harold McKinley and Nicholas Mohr.

Rev. Elsie Johns performed the double-ring ceremony.

The Blue Star Mothers of America, Farmington chapter 49, wishes in this way to say "Thank You" to Chief George Sherlock and Gunner Third Class Ronald Delt of the U.S. Navy who were so kind as to carry the Blue Star Mothers colors in the Memorial Day parade, and to Howard Thayer, who made it possible for many of our mothers to attend the services, for providing his car.

Mrs. Alfred Lint, Sr. and Mrs. Charles Whittefoot left Sunday to attend the Department of Michigan Convention of Blue Star Mothers of America in the Hotel Book Cadillac, Detroit. Mrs. Charles Langley, Mrs. H. A. McIntyre, Mrs. Ralph Hopkins and Mrs. Nelson Vanderburg attended the business sessions on Tuesday for the chapter's past presidents session.

New officers were elected and installed Monday night by the Noble Parent-Teachers Association when it held its last meeting of the school year. O. E. Dunlop, superintendent of the Farmington school system, addressed the group, describing Monday's school election.

New president of the Noble PTA is Mr. William Wilson. Vice-president is G. Nahstoll, and mother vice-president is Mrs. Samuel Turner. Other officers elected include Mrs. J. Briggs, secretary; Mr. A. Bassett, treasurer; Mrs. R. DeLong, publicity; Mrs. Alice Ramsey, program; Mrs. Wallace Hawkins, refreshments; Mrs. William White, membership; and Mrs. R. Natsen, remembrances.

Teaching children good habits is easy, she believes, if you observe a few simple rules. First, children should be seated comfortably with their feet resting on the floor. The dining area should be attractive and uncluttered to develop a peaceful atmosphere.

Adults should not mention food dislikes in the presence of children. Young people are quick to notice tough, strong flavored, gummy, stringy, lumpy or burned food. They like mild natural flavors in food, and they prefer simple food. They should be given food that requires chewing. Crisp vegetables and toast are good examples of this.

Children should be allowed ample time to eat their meals. Don't rush them in their eating, the home economist suggests.

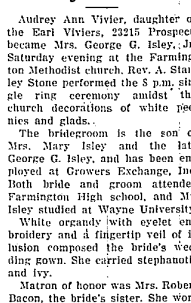

The home economist says that seasoning should be used sparingly. It blunts the appetite. Fruits are best if served ripe and unseasoned.

Individual servings of food given to children should be made small and second helpings encouraged. Children are discouraged by seeing a big helping and hence may not at all eat it. Small children should have their food cut into bite-sized pieces.

Variety should be used in children's meals, but don't introduce more than one new food at any one meal, the home economist concludes.

Mrs. Floyd Sunasack returned to her home on Nine Mile Road Thursday from Orlando, Florida, where she spent two weeks with her mother, Mrs. Minnie Porter, who will make her home with her daughter.
