Finish Plans For High School Alumni Reunion

An admonition to "bring your own dishes and plates" came this week from Charles Collins of Detroit, chairman of the reunion of the classes of 1930-35 of Farmington High School.

The reunion will be held at the city park behind the school at 1 p. m. this Sunday, June 17. Collins will also arrange entertainment for the children attending the reunion with their parents.

Defense is your job, too!

Searching our coastal waters for unidentified submarines, this Navy blimp pilot is constantly on the alert to protect American shores. His blimp carries the most effective airborne detection gear in the world, enabling him to pinpoint and track a target even when it is submerged. And he is doing a vitally important job in defense of America.

Defense is your job, too. And one of the best ways for you to do your part is by keeping yourself and your country economically strong. Buy U. S. Defense Bonds now and regularly. Go to the pay office where you work and sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan or join the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank. But don't put it off—do it today!

The U. S. Defense Bonds you buy give you personal financial independence

Remember that when you're buying Defense Bonds you're building a personal reserve of cash savings. Money that will some day buy you a house or educate your children, or support you when you retire. Remember, too, that if you don't save regularly, you generally don't save at all.

Don't forget that bonds are now a better buy than ever. Because now every Series E Bond you own automatically goes on earning interest every year for 20 years from date of purchase instead of 10 as before! This means that the bond you bought for $18.75 can return you not $25—but as much as $33.00—if you just hold it the extra ten years! A $37.50 bond pays $66.00. And so on. For your security, and your country's, too, buy U. S. Defense Bonds now!

It's Good To Be Home — From Korea

It's good to be home — especially from Korea. Corporal Charles E. Wolfe, now relaxing at his home on Lilac Avenue, can testify to that. He's spending his time amidst family life as usual at the Wolfe residence; that's his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith sitting beside him on the family sofa. Wolfe was a jeep driver with Seventh Cavalry Regiment Headquarters of the First Cavalry Division.

Meadowbrook Murmurs

By Mrs. Dean Eckert
PHONE 0337-M

"Whoa, Boy!" and "Help!" were the excited shouts heard last Saturday when a beautiful run-away situation gave the gardens in Meadowbrook Heights a good plowing. He must have heard about all the little cowboys that live in this neighborhood. Well, anyway, he's back in his stable on Seven Mile Road now and we no longer look like an old Western movie.

Missed all the excitement, darn it, so that's second-hand news! We're enjoying June in the hilly farm country of Indiana, and one of those terrifically fabulous pot-luck dinners that family reunions are famous for.

Did you ever wake up from a bad dream and be thankful it wasn't real? Well, that's how Mrs. Joseph Cauffield felt a couple weeks ago when she woke up after a operation and learned that she didn't have cancer after all. So, it's with real hearty zest that she's tackling the job of redecorating their home at 29033 List Street. Their living room reflects the new happiness for its walls are a sunny daffodil shade, and attractive 'background' for their brand new furniture.

Next door to the Cauffields there's a lot happening at the big brown home where the James Panzini and William Eckler families used to live. The hard-working new owners are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pickard who have rented their Northville home where they lived for many years, and moved into one of their newly-purchased apartments. The nice young couple who have moved into their apartment are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heatley who recently sold their home on Rosemont in Detroit.

"You moved here too late!" lamented the Pickard's 11-year-old granddaughter, Priscilla Hamilton, who was enjoying her recesses at Central School waving at her grandmother, this last week of school. Priscilla's mom, Mrs. William Hamilton of Collingham Street, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pickard. Leaving their paint brushes still for a while, the Pickards left Tuesday for a visit at their cottage at Miskaoka Lake. That's near Blaney Park in the Upper Peninsula.

A drizzle that turned into a hard rain at just the wrong time Saturday turned the Girl Scout picnic into a "fizzle". And the 100 or more Scouts, Brownies, and leaders who journeyed to Lola Valley park for their picnic left downheartedly after eating their hot lunches in their cars. Prizes were collected hurriedly in the rain before contests could even be held.

Another flurry of excitement in the neighborhood last week were the two picnics Friday for the kindergartners from Central School. Dancing eyes belied the sodate tread of little five and six year olds as they marched toward the shady hillside near Central School, behind the Donald Schlack's log cabin. Miss Eula James, kindergarten teacher, was assisted in supervising their play by Mrs. William Aho, Mrs. Fred Bloom, Mrs. Elizabeth Andrews, Mrs. Charles Fellows, Mrs. William Maul, Mrs. Allen Snider, Mrs. Emery Weck, Mrs. Rita Olander, Mrs. John Gildroy and Mrs. Charles Cogle. Other mothers visiting were Mrs. George Griffin, Mrs. Charles Barnum, Mrs. Adell Meadows and Mrs. Lawrence Wagner.

Later, in the scenic backyard of the Howard Nelson home on List Street, the children sat at the arbored picnic table and perched on the terrace wall overlooking the ravine while they ate their picnic lunches. The cookies teacher gave them were "the best tasting Friday cookies" of the entire year. Possibly because their school days are over tomorrow until next fall.

EIGHT MILE EXTENSION

Ten members of the Farmington Eight Mile Extension Council met at the home of Mrs. Raymond Brent, opening the meeting with "Our Pet Peaves". The lesson, "Mrs. Consumer Goes To Market", followed later.

Michigan had the largest decrease in the number of farms from 1940 to 1950 than any other state in the region, federal census statistics show. From 1940 to 1950, the number of Michigan farms dropped from 157,559 to 155,575 or 17.1 per cent. All states that border Michigan had a smaller drop.

A farming business built around livestock and plenty of high quality forage in a stable enterprise and will give good returns if well managed.

St-down strikes and absenteeism are widespread in the coal mines of iron curtain countries.

Proper adjustment of tractor carburetors is important for efficient operation, say Michigan State College agricultural engineers.

Disorderly farm shops are not only unsightly and hazardous, but time consuming for repair jobs because it is difficult to find things.
