

Remember to take good care of your milk and not let it stand on the porch where sunlight will affect its nutrients. Provide a covered box to protect it, advise Michigan State College home economists.

Because of restrictions by Britain's socialist government, many residents of Cardiff, Wales, are without coal although they live only seven miles from the nearest coal mine.

Defense is your job, too!

HERE is a group of strong, healthy young American soldiers enjoying an after-chow gab session while they polish up for tomorrow's inspection. They are a part of the best-fed, best-equipped, best-cared-for Army in the world—the United States Army. And they are just like the boys from your home town, from your own block, who are training now to do a job of defending your country—and you.

Defense is your job, too.

And one of the best ways for you to do that job is to buy U. S. Defense Bonds. For your Defense Bonds help maintain America's economic strength just as these boys help maintain her military strength. Go to the Pay Office where you work and sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan, or join the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank. Do it now!

The U. S. Defense Bonds you buy give you personal financial independence

Remember that when you're buying Defense Bonds you're building a personal reserve of cash savings. Money that will some day buy you a house or educate your children, or support you when you retire. Remember, too, that if you don't save regularly, you generally don't save at all. So go to your company's pay office—now—and sign up to buy Defense Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan.

Don't forget that bonds are now a better buy than ever. Because now every Series E Bond you can automatically goes on earning interest every year for 20 years from date of purchase instead of 10 as before! This means that the bond you bought for $18.75 can return you not $25—but as much as $33.33—if you just hold it the extra ten years! A $37.50 bond pays $56.66. And so on. For your security, and your country's, too, buy U. S. Defense Bonds now!

*U. S. Savings Bonds are Defense Bonds Buy them regularly!

Jugs of TB Bugs Aid U-M Research

That's not a jug of cider being examined by Dr. Donald W. Smith of the University of Michigan Medical School's Department of Bacteriology. It's a jug containing enough live tuberculosis germs to infect 2,000,000 people. Dr. Smith, a native of Flint, is growing the TB germs in a laboratory where careful precautions are taken to confine the germs to research use. They are being used in research aimed at developing a new chemical substance to prevent tuberculosis. The research is sponsored by Parke, Davis and Company, the United States Public Health Service and the Veterans Administration.

Political Posters Troubled Rome Too

Political posters that still hang from telephone poles and billboards around the city of Rome are a reminder of the political situation in that city.

An article in "The Classical Courier" published by the University of Michigan Department of Classical Studies describes some of the Roman signs.

Lettered signs in Latin calling for support of candidates have been found on buildings, walls and even on tombstones.

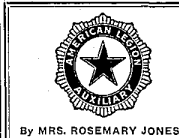

The situation seems to have been pretty bad because this inscription was found on one tomb: "BILPOSTER: I beg you, pass by this monument . . . may any candidate whose name has been painted on the monument suffer defeat, and may he obtain no office!"

The plea was effective for there was no trace of a political sign on that tomb.

On another monument was this inscription: "So may your candidate get what office he seeks, and just so, billposter, pass by this monument perpetually. If I gain this request, at least good luck and prosperity to you. Farewell!"

In the evacuation of Pompeii the advertising campaigns of Latin politicians are fully documented; the Michigan publication states. Lettering is bold and varies in size from two inches to a foot in height. Hundreds of recommendations of candidates for local offices can be found on the walls of private houses and shop fronts.

Some of these seem to have been used as a sort of nominating procedure: "His neighbors demand Casellius Marcellus as candidate for aedile" and "All the goldsmiths for aedile" and "All the goldsmiths for aedile."

By MRS. ROSEMARY JONES

Twenty members of the American Legion Auxiliary Post 346 enjoyed the annual Poppy Potluck on Monday, June 11. The tables were decorated attractively, and each member brought a dish.

Mrs. Mary Markell, captain, with her team of winners, turning in $411.00. Mrs. Rosemary Jones with her team workers turned in $364.53. Mrs. Lulu Schaeper, general chairman of the poppy sales, announced the total sum turned in was $772.56. The Auxiliary would like to thank each and every one for their cooperation and willingness to give during the three day poppy sale drive. We also would like to have the VFW post and auxiliary of Farmington know how much we enjoyed working beside them.

Nearly children of Korean veterans may now be aided by the National Child Welfare division on the same basis as children of the veterans of World Wars I and II, as the result of the national executive committee amendment of regulations governing the national child welfare program. Rules on the use of poppy funds were also broadened to include rehabilitation and child welfare for Korean veterans and their families.

The annual Wolverine Girls' State, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, opened June 18 on the University of Michigan campus and will continue for a full week. Training in Citizenship, leadership and educational guidance will be given to 238 high school girls. Miss Jane Hamlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delos Hamlin, 22631 Brookdale, Farmington, is the youngest lady chosen by the Auxiliary to attend. Good luck, Jane, and have a good time.

If all the land underlain with coal in the United States could be placed side by side in one continuous and massive block, it would sprawl over an area larger than all of Great Britain, Eire, and France combined.
