senators want to fix prices so as to determine profits," angrily shouted the Michigan senator.

Ferguson had reason to expect his automobile amendment to pass like other special-interest amendments, log-rolled through in the early hours of the morning. But it was defeated—with Michigan's other senator, Blair Moody of Detroit, voting against it.

One of the greatest speeches of the inflation debate was delivered in the senate at about 3 a.m. It was by a man whose banking firm has made him a multimillionaire but who fought vigorously against the big-business lobbies—Herbert Lehman of New York.

Though Lehman is 73 years old and served as governor of New York more terms than any man in history, he is new to the senate. And he seemed hurt and disappointed at the mad scramble of his colleagues to vote for the special interests.

Finally he rose, and speaking softly, said:

"What I am about to say is not going to please my colleagues in the senate. Yet I must say it. Here we are engaged in a life-and-death struggle, a struggle for survival against the most ruthless enemy in history, fighting on two fronts: on the military and on the economic.

"We ought to be engaged exclusively in considering legislation to benefit all the people of the country, legislation to keep our country on a sound economic basis. Yet, here I see and hear senator after senator rise, not to concern himself with the issues before us, but to play politics, to blast the Administration. I tell you, it has made my heart sick to hear all this. It makes me feel that we are betraying the people who send us down here.

"We are about to pass a bill which is a bad bill, a bill which is not in the interest of the people of our country," Lehman continued. "I know there is nothing I can say which is going to reverse the trend and bring about the ends I and many of my associates and the people seek. Deep down in our hearts, we all know that these ends are necessary. Yet some are acting without regard to what is right. But I hope that we are not going to be supreme or satisfied with what we have done.

"I assume that what I have said will not set well with some of my colleagues," Lehman concluded. "Yet I am glad I said it. I think it is something which had to be said on the floor of the senate."

PEANUTS AND MILK

Senators Ed Thye, Minnesota Republican, and Warren Magnuson, Washington Democrat, also pushed through an amendment to freeze dairy and peanut products at their present high prices. But Senator Anderson objected.

"The bill we are considering is designed to try to put ceilings on

SUNSHINE LADY NEEDS CARD MAIL FOR ILL FAMILY

Within the past five years a great many people in the Farmington and Redford areas have received "get well" cards from "The Sunshine Lady". For 15 years this woman has made it her hobby to send cards to all who need a bit of cheer.

Since the death of her husband 18 months ago, she has had to cut her list to almost nothing. Yet, she would never turn down a new name. Now through this paper, she is asking a special appeal for mail for her two sons, Robert Terreault, 17, who is ill at St. Joseph's Hospital in Pontiac, and 12-year-old Eddie Terreault, who is very ill at the Kenny Police Center, Telegraph Road, Pontiac. Mrs. Terreault, who lives at 1405 Hospital Road, Route 9, Pontiac, has opened her home to all ill daughter-in-law.

Muck Fire Still Burns East Of Inlay City

With an 80-acre muck fire still smoldering east of Inlay City, the conservation department reports a total of 17 fires damaging 125 acres, or the highest weekly toll since the middle of May.

While the state still is ahead of last year's low record fire pace, the department points out that the late summer - early fall hazard period has started in southern Michigan. Vegetation is curing and forest firefighters caution farmers who plan to burn stubble fields to use caution.

So far 535 fires have burned 3,613 acres as compared to 637 fires which damaged 4,218 acres last year at this time. The state had its best forest fire record of all time last year when 872 fires were held to 5,696 acres damage.

prices," he said. "How is a measure that would prevent prices from dropping germane to a bill that is trying to put on ceilings?"

MM2/c Wells Serves Aboard Carrier Princeton

MM2/c Donald J. Wells, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis F. Wells of 18275 Farmington Road, is serving aboard the aircraft carrier USS Princeton, which has been operating off the coast of Korea since last December.

Planes from the Princeton have been supplying close air support for United Nations ground forces in Korea, with strikes against enemy lines of communications.

Thorough driver training can be given to every boy and girl high school student at a cost of about $20 each — less than the cost of a wrecked fender.

Muskellunge Propagation Started In Drayton Plains

The first artificial propagation of muskellunge to Michigan has started at the conservation department's fish hatchery in Drayton Plains.

About 15,000 eggs are being incubated. Eggs and milt were obtained from a muskellunge trapped in Torch River, outlet of Torch Lake in Antrim County.

State fish biologists say muskies probably will not be stocked in suitable Michigan lakes this year. Fry obtained will likely be used for experimental purposes.

FAST, ACCURATE TELEPHONE SERVICE IS VITAL TO CIVIL DEFENSE

Warnings of approaching planes, coming from air raid spotters or military radar screens, are flashed over networks of Long Distance and local telephone lines to Filter Centers.

Telephone reports are quickly charted on Filter Center maps. Then waiting Air Force interceptor planes are alerted.

This is but one type of the many special telephone networks serving government and military forces to help protect our nation:

This great and growing telephone system was built to serve America in peace. But it is just as ready to serve in any emergency:

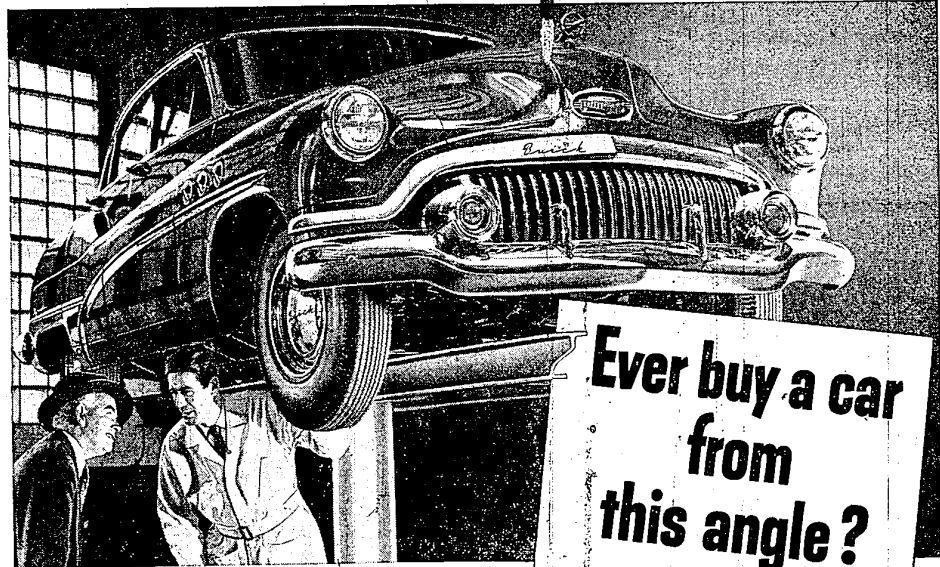

The value of this nationwide telephone network was never greater—never clearer—than it is today:

It must be kept strong. It is vital to a strong America:

To help speed your Long Distance call, please give the operator the out-of-town telephone number. • Telephone lines are busy with national defense.

Ever buy a car from this angle?

SURE, a trim new Buick makes a mighty pretty picture when you see it in your driveway, or watch it wheel by.

But if you could get a mechanic's-eye view of this big, broad beauty as it sits on a lift, you'd see an impressive picture of rugged brawn that makes good-to-look-at Buicks give such a good account of themselves on the road.

You'd see the full-length torque-tube drive that firms the whole power relay system, and steadies your going like a giant hand beneath you.

You'd see big sturdy wheels with really wide rims that provide sure footing, give better car control, make tires last longer.

You'd see all four wheels cushioned by stout coil springs that are completely service-free, practically breakproof—and a principal reason for the over-level Buick ride.

But mainly, you'd see the massive foundation that backbones every Buick—the deep, wide, X-member frame that's rugged as a rock, and a brute for strength.

So when you look at the beauty of a Buick—the big mileage power of its valve-in-head Fireball Engine—and the moneysaving ability of its Dynaflo Drive*—don't overlook the tough stamina that goes with it all.

And don't overlook the fact that a new '51 Buick, with all its heft, costs less per pound than any other car of comparable size, structure and weight.

Better come see us first chance you get—and find out what a smart buy this is—from every angle.

NO OTHER CAR PROVIDES ALL THIS:

DYNAFLO DRIVE* • FIREBALL ENGINE
PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT • WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS • 4-WHEEL COIL SPRING
TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE • DUAL VENTILATION
DREAMLINE STYLING • BODY BY FISHER
