1ST MEETING OF VILLAGE BOARD

New Members are Dignified as Old Timers Report Published Next Week

The new village board held their first meeting on last Monday evening and transacted the usual routine business.

All members were present and President Francis presided just as if he had always held the place. Clerk Pierson also has some ideas of village government, and the way he shows trouble, in the form of communications and bills, at the council proves that monthly meetings are going to be alive if nothing else.

E. S. Grace presented his petition for the hotel bar, and the same was unanimously approved. Bills were allowed and several important matters discussed.

New committees were appointed, and will be published next week.

The Enterprise came in for a share of attention, and the council ordained that henceforth reports of each meeting should be published, as well as the annual report.

The report of this meeting will appear in next week's issue.

Wedding Bells Chime

In the presence of relatives and a few very intimate friends on last Wednesday afternoon, Miss Lavilla Adams, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Adams, and Mr. Ralph E. Noble, were united in marriage. Rev. George Guilen of Detroit speaking the sacred words that made the young couple one.

The bride is one of the most popular members of Farmington's younger set, is a highly educated and accomplished young lady, and a graduate of Detroit Expression School. The groom is an admirable type of young man, well and favorably known in this vicinity, and has the admiration of a host of friends.

The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, and was a very pretty affair, being performed with the bridal party standing under a large bell of sweet peas. Neither was attended. The color scheme of pink and white was carried out.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of chambray trimmed with pearl, while the groom was attired in the conventional black.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was given the young couple, about forty guests being attendant.

A short honeymoon trip will be enjoyed, the newlyweds having left for Cleveland, immediately following the reception.

They expect to be at home to friends after July 1st, and will build a commodious and modern home on the Noble acres near this place.

Did You "Go to Church Sunday"

"Go to Church Sunday" was observed here last Sunday, and at the M. E. church the auditorium was filled for the morning service. While it is not known just how many attended the service it is conservatively estimated that from 125 to 150 were present and heard the sermon delivered by the pastor.

In the evening the congregation was not so large, but was nevertheless an increase over average attendance.

The pastor spoke at both services, and the song service by the choir was a feature.

The movement is a big one, and one that is doing a vast amount of good. It is only regrettable that even more did not help to swell the attendance locally.

DEMOCRATS GET BUT ONE OFFICE

Entire Republican Ticket Elected with Exception of Highway Commissioner

Two hundred, forty-eight ballots were cast in the annual township election last Monday despite the snow storm that prevailed, the larger portion of the voting being done during the afternoon.

One lone Democrat, Carl F. Hatton for highway commissioner, succeeded in crossing the wire ahead of his Republican opponent, Herman C. Voss, winning by a marginal eight votes. The balance of the township offices remain in the Republican column.

Both tickets had nominated good men, and the election or defeat of either set will not in any way prevent the several offices from being capably filled.

The county hospital proposition was defeated in this township by a vote of 135 to 101. Only one woman, Mrs. J. W. Hatton, braved the storm and voted, despite the agitation by the several women's clubs for women to get out and vote.

Less than a hundred "scratched" their ballots, there being 111 straight Republican and 53 Democratic.

The following list shows the total vote cast for each office, the name of the winning candidate being given first:

Shower for Bride

One of the most enjoyable events of the local social season took place last Monday evening, in honor of Miss Lavilla Adams, whose marriage took place last Wednesday, when Mrs. J. W. McGee arranged and gave a six o'clock dinner and miscellaneous shower in honor of the bride, a number of her most intimate young lady friends being in attendance.

The table was beautifully decorated in pink and white, the favors being pink roses filled with dainty confections.

Several streamers about the house furnished much amusement when the guests commenced to unwind them, each finding a daintily dressed doll at the string's end, excepting the bride, who was more fortunate, finding a beautiful doll dressed in bridal attire trying in vain to carry numerous pretty and useful gifts.

The dinner menu was elaborate and the evening spent a highly enjoyable one, the guests departing at a late hour with thanks to the hostess for the enjoyable time.
