ROLLING DOWN THE RIVER

By Bob Kettler

A fellow that gets from here to there quite frequently during the summer stopped in for a bit of lubrication the other day. He told us (and swears it's true) of being in a filling station away up in northern Wisconsin when another tourist dropped in for a refill and asked the attendant how far it was to Memphis. "If you mean Memphis, Tennessee," said the operator, "you've a couple of thousand miles to go." The tourist nearly fainted.

Seems that he had been advised to take the highway 51 when leaving Chicago, evidently made a wrong turn and ended up in Harley, Wisconsin, the northern terminus of the highway with Memphis almost at the other end.

Must have been a pretty cloudy day to keep that fellow from recognizing north from south. Maybe he borrowed or bought the car, but we're pretty sure it was a Studebaker. As we remember it, Murley is about 450 miles from Chicago and he'd need a Studebaker to get all that mileage behind before refueling. We will write the factory and ask them to install direction finders to take care of situations like that, but in the meantime, we'd like to have you drop in and drive the '51 Commander with its magnificent V-8 engine. You will find all the power, all the comfort and all the economy you've hoped for, wrapped up in one convenient Studebaker package.

There's an acquaintance of ours who holds a commission in the reserve and Uncle Sam recently called him back to active duty. While his wife takes a dim view of the whole business, his little daughter thinks her Dad is perfectly marvelous in his new outfit. He was home recently, on a bit of leave, and the little girl could hardly bear to have him out of her sight. He did manage to slip downtown by himself, though, and while he was gone it started to rain. "I guess," said the little girl, "it's going to stop out the window." "God doesn't know Daddy's down-town wearing his new uniform."

Well, there's a bit of fall and frost in the air and it's about time you brought that car of yours around to let our expert mechanics look it over. Why drive a sluggish, hard-starting car when it's so easy to drive one that is mechanically perfect. Then too, we figure it's time for you to change that oil and grease that have been fighting heat and dust all summer. You've no idea how much your car will appreciate such courteous treatment.

Our shop agnostic remarked that most persons like having a couple of sinners in the congregation. "The more a man's conscience hurts him," he stated, "the more he drops in the collection plate."

Yours,
