Model L-110, 115-inch wheelbase, 6½-foot pickup body, 4,200 lbs. GVW. Pickups in the L-110, L-120 and L-130 Series include 115, 127 and 134-inch wheelbases, 6½, 8 and 9-ft. bodies, GVW's to 8,500 lbs.

This pickup pinches pennies!

There are two simple reasons why you save money when you buy an International pickup truck.

First, you get lower operating and maintenance costs. You get a pickup truck that is engineered throughout to do more work for less money.

Second, you get longer truck life. Even the smallest International pickup truck has the traditional stamina that has kept Internationals first in heavy-duty truck sales for 19 straight years.

You get these all-truck savings right along with features that no other pickup truck gives you. For example—the COMFO-VISION CAB is "the roomiest, most comfortable cab on the road." The Silver Diamond engine is an outstanding development of the world's largest exclusive truck engine plant. Super-steering gives you maneuverability and ease of handling that make driving a pleasure.

But get all the facts for yourself. Come in and learn why International pickup trucks are the best truck value in pickups today.

Sincerely Yours:

Letters submitted to the Editor for publication must be signed. Opinions expressed in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily represent the policies of this newspaper.

To the Editor:
I wrote a letter last week (November 8 edition) about homes and the zoning ordinance. You picked the mistake I made to write an editor's note to take any effect my letter might have had, away. You said "You never wrote editor's notes before, to any (editorial) letters." Well you were mistaken on that point, you wrote a note (or answer) to a letter I wrote in June 1949.

I am sorry I said what I did, about you suggesting that people live in tents. I was wrong there. I remember now, that I made that remark to my wife when I read what you wrote in answer to my letter.

Last week you said you just wanted to keep the record straight, well if you still do will you print this note you wrote to my first letter and I will emphasize the parts that I had in mind, and that must of give me at least, the impression that you didn't care if people lived in tents, as long as they stayed some place else. Here is your note.

"Dear Mr. Lacroix:
We're mighty glad to hear from you, as we are from everyone; most especially those with questions about zoning. The Enterprise has gone on record (May 26) as being firmly against (dollar restrictions).
We merely desire to have all homes, regardless of value, fulfill a minimum sanitary code, that's for the benefit of the occupants as well as the rest of the township.
So far as the shacks go there is no argument in denying their place. But why not keep them together to protect the people who have managed to build expensive homes?
The Enterprise to date has not suggested the restricting of dollar built homes. So long as this is the United States, the land of free enterprise, people will be free to live in the structure they desire; provided that structure does not interfere with the health, safety and property of themselves and of others."
I think you will see what gave me these ideas. I hope this will straighten things out, we both made a mistake. I still say if people could get low-interest government loans to build decent homes everybody would be much better off.

Sincerely yours
Russell Lacroix

In the long-range view, coal will become an increasingly important chemical raw material.

The Farmington Lions Auxiliary held a card party Thursday evening, November 8, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Siler on Orchard Lake Road. Co-hostesses for the party were Mrs. Joseph Herbert, Mrs. Kenneth Siler and Mrs. Harvey Tracy. Proceeds of this and other parties sponsored by the group will be used to benefit children by sending them to camp each summer. This party was a great success with a turn-out of at least 25 people. A lunch of rolled sandwiches, cake and coffee was served. A Royal Daltan cup and saucer, furnished by Mrs. Siler, was given away during the evening.
Sixteen children of the West Franklin Subdivision, ranging in age from six-and-one-half months to 11 years, attended a Halloween supper and party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Brown, Jr., on Peardridge. At the party, sponsored by the subdivision, the children played games and had a treasure hunt. Boys and girls who attended are Nancy and Patty Osterling; Tommy Claus; Peter, Stephen and Michael Kneig; Judy Douglas; Steve Varian; Keith Bruce and Laura Moore; Marsha and Bernie Thompson and Jana, Rog and Penny Brown.
Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hutchinson of Detroit were Sunday visitors at the home of their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. George Hutchinson on Middlebelt Road.
Halloween evening found a record number of youngsters out "begging" with as many as 13 children in one group. My son came home with enough for the entire family, at least until Christmas.
Have I failed to put "your" news in this week? If so, it isn't intentional. Won't you call me with news of your family or visitors? I'll be waiting for that call.
Celebrating Birthdays Sunday, November 4, were Louise Duquet and Mrs. W. R. Chapp.

Cars Get More Deer Than Archers

Southern Michigan archers seem to be using the wrong weapons. The conservation department discloses that more deer have been reported hit by automobiles than arrows in at least two counties.
In Allegan county seven deer have been killed by cars while bow hunters have bagged two whitetails. Four more have been hit by accident victims in Shiawassee county where archers have racked up a grand total of... zero.
Coming from Mason to Lansing another driver accounted for one more whitetail near Mason.

ROLLING DOWN THE RIVER
By Bob Kettler
Now last week we told a story about the birds and bees and no sooner is it in print than someone comes along and tries to top it. A very sensible lady that we know (she drives a Studebaker) drove into the garage the other day. She told of a wedding, recently performed. As the bridegroom expected to spend most of the time that should have been used for a honeymoon in the uniform of Uncle Sam's army, the kiss that followed the ceremony was long and breath-taking. The silence of the church, during this solemn moment was rudely shattered when a small but distinct voice piped up, "Mommy, is he spreading the pollen over her now?"
Oh well, that's as things should be and we suppose that we will have to wait a bit before we can tell you how the wedding Studebaker, as his address isn't going to be exactly permanent for a while. Too bad, too, because he will have to miss the thrill of driving this beautiful new Studebaker with its amazingly powerful engine, its ease of handling and its downright comfortable riding qualities. The downright economy of the car would make his soldier's pay stretch a lot farther, too. May we give you a demonstration?
We're informed also that a local store owner turned good samaritan this past week end. With a window full of toys, a solid little urchin came much time with his soiled little hands and dusty nose pressed firmly against the plate glass, admiring a beautiful red truck that carried a price tag of 79c. So one day our informer, Mr. Bob Kettler, picked up the little red 79c truck and gave it to the lad, with the provision he go home and not look in the window any more. "So," says our story teller, "you're a pretty good Joe after all."
"Good Joe, too," says the merchant. "That kid has been costing me a $1.50 window wash every day."
How has your car been performing these winter days? We hope that you have it completely winterized throughout, including winter grease in the transmission. If you've missed that winter lubricant, better bring it in today. These expert mechanics of ours will be glad to give it a winter tune-up, too, just to make sure that it starts; no matter how cold it may get some brisk morning. Takes a bit of time, calling a tow truck when you're in a hurry.
That's that, but we don't have any closing line this week except a Scotch proverb that goes... "never marry for money, you can borrow it cheaper at the bank."
Yours,
BOB KETTLER

Law Restricts Deer Hunters To Shotguns
Firearm deer hunters in the southern tier of the state are restricted to shotguns with buckshot, ball or slug loads in the November 15 - 30 season as the result of special legislative action. The Governor signed a bill enacted during the October 23 special session.
The dividing line, as defined in the bill, runs west from Muskegon on M-46 to the M-37 intersection, south and east on M-37 to M-57 junction, east on M-57 to M-131, north on M-131 to M-46 again, east M-46 to M-17 junction, and then east and north to Saginaw Bay. All of the Thumb is in the restricted area.
