WASHINGTON MERRY - GO - ROUND

WAC during the war, and warned that President Truman "would use this to wipe up the general."

Actually, certain Republicans, not Truman, are more likely to use this against Eisenhower. It is a fact they've already started. It happens that Truman and Eisenhower not only are friends, but Truman was deeply grateful to Ike for staying out of the 1948 race when he could have had the Democratic nomination for the asking.

So if Eisenhower really wants to run this time, it's a fairly good bet that Truman won't.

Meanwhile, the Westbrook Peglers and other smear-Eisenhower artists might look up the below-the-belt tactics used against Grover Cleveland. They elected him.

JESSUP AND IKE

Those who watched the senate hearings on Ambassador Philip Jessup detected a smear-Eisenhower undertone in that proceeding also. For Jessup is a Columbia University professor who not only served on Eisenhower's faculty, but received a letter from the defending Eisenhower in the McCarthy pro-Communist attack.

Seated across the table from Jessup during the senate hearing was a Republican who has vowed to take Eisenhower and who has staked his entire political future on Taft — Owen Brewster of Maine.

It was Brewster who led the attack on Jessup inside the senate committee.

STASSEN'S MEMORY

Senators who listened to Harold E. Stassen stumble through the Jessup hearings may remember that Stassen didn't count on the State department releasing the full, secret transcript of the round-table conference over far eastern policy. Stassen testified, for example, that Jessup brought up the question of recognizing Communist China on the third day of the conference, and that the State department came out in favor of recognition. The actual transcript, however, shows that the question of recognizing Communist China was brought up, not by Jessup, but by the State department's Charles Butterworth, not on the third day but the first day. Furthermore, Butterworth set forth the State department's position clearly, which was against recognizing the Red regime.

BOYLE PARTNER

It was Maine's courageous Sen. Margaret Chase Smith who first asked the Hoey committee to investigate a key associate of Democratic ex-chairman Bill Boyle.

In a senate speech she said: "I suggest that the subcommittee call Mr. Daniel J. Hanlon and ask him if he was in any way connected with the legal controversy with the government over the American President line." Hanlon was a former law partner of Boyle.

Low-Down on a high-powered Performer

Let us tell you this:

The Buick pictured here packs more power than you find in any other car of its size and room and price.

That's the power of Buick's newest high-compression valve-in-head eight—the F-263 Fireball Engine, that really gets miles from a gallon of gas.

Add to this the fact that it tips the scales at 3817 pounds curb-side—and you begin to see why this big-powered beauty is such a nimble-footed number out on the road.

But that's only Chapter I of the performance story.

There's a big-car feel to the way this trim traveler covers the ground—hugs the curves—holds its course on the straightaway—smoothes the bumps with its big soft coil springs on all four wheels.

There's the big-car room inside—six-passenger room—headroom, hiproom, shoulderroom, kneeroom, front and back.

Come in, look it over, and we think you'll agree—it's big in everything but price.

And that's where it really shines. If you've shopped around you'll know what we mean when you read the price tags, and what they include in the way of standard equipment that shows up as "extras" on so many others. Such things as an oil filter, air cleaner, vacuum booster, built-in summer ventilation are all yours at no extra charge.

It's hard to believe but it's true. If you can afford a new car, you can afford this Buick at the prices we're quoting today.

Better come in and look this smart buy over.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional on extra cost on other Series.
