work was $600 as possible. The old Leslie Boulevard of Hubbard Avenue with his three sons, Charles, Norman and Bruce, and a son-in-law, Robert Young, arrived home early in the week from several days of hunting in northern Michigan.

The open house was conducted at Edgewood, Central and Clarencville High School under the sponsorship of the Clarencville P.T.A. Parents were given an opportunity to see the facilities of the School District as well as talk with the teachers. Max Miller, high school principal, stated that teachers spent considerable time meeting and talking with parents.

A number of persons attended the open house who do not have children in school. Most of them stated that they appreciated the opportunity of seeing the building and facilities.

Members of the Student Council acted as guides at the high school during the open house. Members of the P. T. A. assisted the parents and teachers at the two elementary schools.

Plans have also been approved by the Board for a new 22 room high school building to be constructed on Shawansee near Orchard Lake Road. Priorities for the high school unit have not been granted as yet by the Department of Education. These three units, plus the new Ten Mile Road Elementary School, now under construction, make up the $1,750,000 school building program approved by the voters.

Meadowbrook Murmurs
By Mrs. Dean Eckert

According to all the local hunters we've turned into, the deer up north all bunched up to be doers. And the wrong kind of "doeghs" too bad. Earl Marks, Marilee Wasek and Fred Wasek didn't bring home the venison Thanksgiving Day, after a week of hunting near the Westlake cottage at Lake City. So they're going back this week and to try their luck again during the special season there.

Earl Billing and his moon, Mrs. Clarence Billing of Middlebelt Road, have returned from two weeks at their cabin near Orchard Lake. They say they saw plenty of deer and relatives, but that's all. Earl expects to be wearing the Navy blue very soon, so this was his last "vacation" for a while.

Mr. Sam Prisk, former local dentist, his wife and three year old son Jimmy will be home for a Christmas furlough, his last trip home before seeing Japan where his new orders are sending him. The Prisks have been in Joplin, Missouri, since last spring. Mrs. Prisk says she's staying in Michigan then, but if at all possible, to go wherever Sam goes. Dr. Prisk also served during World War II.

Also awaiting "moving orders" is Corporal Harold Young, who will report December 12 at Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, for his next assignment. Mrs. Young has been keeping house for him near his Kansas home and, of course, hopes to continue her same job elsewhere. His parents, the H. W. Youngs of 20801 Middlebelt Road, are expecting the couple home for a furlough for Christmas or New Year.

We're waiting, too, at our house. Awaiting our second assignment of checking pox. Then, after that, it probably will be bumps, for that, too, is ready to be sent around. Our little high gals and fellows were grinning happily when their principal Mr. Miller returned to school after his bout with the mumps. His grin was attractively enhanced by the presence of a startling black mustache. So his "time off" wasn't wasted.

There's always busy bees in the neighborhood, it seems. Mr. and Mrs. Young are tilting their own bathroom, and the Donald Ruffs have been glamorizing their basement recreation room. With the competent help of their brother-in-law, the late William Mann, also of Scott Street, they've paneled it beautifully and now plan to turn one wing into a handy kitchenette. The old fire basement opens out on a beautiful lawn, woods and river view.

Those of us in southern Michigan were caught with our storm winds down when Old Man Winter visited. But really snowbound for two weeks were the Howard DeArmonds whose summer visit in the North lingered just long enough to catch the farm in snow. Finally enroute south to their home at Gainesville, Florida, the DeArmonds stopped last week for a visit with their relatives, the Maurice W. Wicks of 22513 Scott Street.

Glad to be back from the "cold north" too, was the Russell Ellis family of 1st Street after spending a week at their farm in Canada. Mrs. Mrs. Allan Healey were in Canada over the week end, too. Mrs. Hedley lost her mother, Mrs. J. T. Doner, a month ago, so she had to go home town of Staynor was as well as cold.

Between six and seven hundred parents enjoyed the "Open House" at the three Clarencville schools last week at the farm in Canada. That's a fine response to the efforts of the P.T.A. to bring the parents into this wonderful business of education. A lot of new P.T.A. members were enrolled and it's hoped that a lot more will appear at the Christmas meeting December 18. A fifty-cent gift exchange is planned and entertainment by a local dancing school will be featured.

He is happiest, be he king or peasant, who finds peace in his home.

-- LOCALS --

Mrs. Irene Krueger attended the reception for Mrs. Stirling in Highland Park last Tuesday evening. Betty Jean Gill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stirling of Farmington, has pledged to Sigma Alpha Epsilon, national music fraternity for women at Hillsdale College, college authorities report.

Mr. and Mrs. Enos Banks of Breton Road, Farmington, spent the Thanksgiving week end in Verona, Kentucky, with the J. D. Adams family.

Miss Marilyn J. Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Jones, visited her family at 33215 Oakland Road during the Thanksgiving week end. She is a student at Hamline University, St. Paul, Minnesota, and returned there Sunday.

Bruce Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Richards of 31719 Wasek and River Avenue, played in "Challenge of the Yukon" Tuesday over radio station CKLW. He also had a role recently in the Detroit Edison Electric Theater program over WXYZ-TV.

Nab Chataway Bar Hold Up Suspect

Suspects in the Chataway Bar hold up have been arrested by Detroit Police, Farmington Chief of Police Joseph DeVriendt reported Tuesday. The Chataway Bar, 2141 Grand River Avenue, was held up and robbed of between $300 and $500 Friday evening, October 5.

According to Chief DeVriendt, the suspects are Donald V. McLaughlin, 21, of 17100 Leonard, Detroit; Paul A. Arsenault, 22, of 6300 Maple, Dearborn; and Thomas Waldron, 22, of 7159 Dix, Dearborn. They are reported, stated Chief DeVriendt, to be members of the Friday Night Gang that held up 21 business establishments.

Saturday morning Chief DeVriendt and Patrolman Tom Schriber took George Cupps, a Chataway employee, to Detroit where DeVriendt stated that Cupps indicated Donald McLaughlin as the main suspect in the Chataway Bar.

City police reported when the bar was robbed October 5 the bandit entered the bar about 8:30 p.m. and remained about 11:40. He calmly pulled a gun, forced the occupants of the bar to lie on the floor and scooped the money from the cash register. He then ordered an attendant to call the one pay phone while he cut the other and left through a back door.

REMEMBER THE 49'ers?

They went huntin' gold in them thar hills and they found some, too. Now we aint' goin' out huntin' gold cause we know the revenooers got it all stashed away in a hole someplace — so we're gonna be 39'ers. By that we mean we're gonna have some pork loin roasts fer 39c a lb. and we're havin' smoked picnic hams fer 39c a lb. To gitcha to try some really good pork sausage we're gonna have some that we grind ourselves fer 39c a lb. Fer you folks that aint tried our hickory smoked bacon sharpen up yer knife and come in and git an end piece of a slab of bacon, which is about 2 lbs. worth, fer 39c a lb. — but that's a piece price — that aint sliced. You gotta do that yerself. Watch out fer yer fingers, woncha??

Us gals on the grocery side can't have a 39c sale but we're gonna have some shopper stoppers, like a pound can of red salmon fer 79c. Now that's the real red salmon and it's a solid pack — taint all tails and fins. Then we red 2 bottles of Heinz catsup fer only 49c. If you wanna put some kidney beans on yer shelf fer someday when yer gonna make some chili, git a couple cans fer two bits while we're in a generous mood. It wouldn't be an ad unless it had some coffee so this week we're gonna let you take a lb. of Conroy's whole bean coffee fer 73c. If yuh don't know how to run the grinder just stand over there and yell "HELP". Yuh gotta yell loud the cause sometimes we don't listen pretty good.
