SERVING BUFFET LUNCHES

When you have invited friends to a buffet supper, serve the early arrivals promptly. It is that kind of a party — perfectly correct to have a small group eat as they arrive and then take care of the late-comers without any feeling of apology. It is simpler for everyone, suggests Miss Helen Wilcox, of the institution administration department of Michigan State College.

TOWN CLUB STARTS YULE FESTIVITIES WITH MUSIC

Christmas music will start the holiday festivities for members of the Town Club of Farmington tonight, December 6. Many guests will accompany members to the Evangelical Church and the music will be presented by students directed by Mr. Warren Henderson of Farmington High School. Hostesses for the event is Mrs. Carl Schultz and she will be assisted by Mrs. Claude Earl, Mrs. Carl Hunt, Mrs. James Warner, Mrs. Edward Smith, Mrs. J. T. Cook, Jr., Mrs. James Tagg and Mrs. M. Wickham. Entertainment chairman is Mrs. Clarence Stoll.

Saturday evening, Town Club members and their husbands will meet at Farmington Town Hall at 7 p.m. for smorgasbord, followed by an evening of cards and dancing. Mrs. James Tagg is general chairman of the affair and she is assisted by Mrs. James Warner. Christmas decorations are being planned by Mrs. Robert Smith, and Mrs. George Otis is in charge of dinner arrangements.

To Dedicate Memorials At Clarenceville Church

Members of the Clarenceville Methodist Church will dedicate a public address system, organ chimes and recording system Sunday, December 9, at 11:15 a.m.

The additions to the church are memorial gifts given by friends of the church, the Colburn family, and Mr. John G. Wood in memory of Mr. Bert A. Colburn, who was killed in an automobile accident July 1, 1951. Mr. Colburn was chairman of the board of trustees.

Lieut. Wilburn Legree, Flint's Slinging Corp, will be in charge of the evening service Sunday, December 9, which starts at 7:30 p.m. Lieut. Legree is well known in Michigan as an outstanding church leader and baritone soloist.

Presents which our love for the donor has rendered precious are ever the most acceptable.

MRS. ROSEMARY JONES

The joy of Christmas giving will be brought to sick and disabled veterans in hospitals throughout the country through Christmas gift shops operated in hospitals by the American Legion Auxiliary. Gift shops where hospitalized veterans can select gifts for their families without cost will be in operation in a large majority of the Veterans Hospitals during the pre-Christmas weeks. The auxiliary will wrap and mail the gifts to the veterans' families without cost to veterans. Last Christmas the auxiliary spent $365,000 in its gift shop program.

Giving Christmas presents to all veterans forced to spend holidays in a hospital has been part of the auxiliary's Christmas activities for many years. Auxiliary members, working on this program, discovered that veterans wanted to give as well as receive presents. Christmas could not be a happy day for them if they had to lie in their hospital beds and think of families at home to whom they had not been able to send gifts.

Consequently, the American Legion Auxiliary began setting up gift shops in recreation rooms or other available space in the hospital. The auxiliary started stocking them with gifts of all kinds donated by auxiliary units and other friends of the disabled veterans. Patients able to leave their beds go to the shops to make selections. Cardboards of gift articles are taken to the bedsides of others. The work is done by auxiliary volunteers. We find that bringing the joy of Christmas giving to the veterans is the finest Christmas gift we can give them.

The American Legion Auxiliary Unit 346 has contributed gifts for the Dearborn Veterans' Hospital. Mrs. Hattie DeVriendt, rehabilitation chairman, will take these gifts and help wrap them December 10.

How many of you folks listened to radio station WCAE, Pontiac, November 26 at 10:46 a.m.? For those who didn't, Mrs. Treanna Quinn, membership chairman of the 17th District, did a grand job. Mrs. Hattie DeVriendt assisted as program coordinator and performed beautifully. Both Treanna and Hattie carried the 15 minute program like old troupers.

Don't forget the meeting date of the auxiliary unit 346 Monday, December 10, at 8:30 p.m. Following the meeting a Christmas party is in store for those who attend. There will be the exchange of fifty cent gifts, the singing of Christmas carols and lunch. See you there December 10.
