Rotary Prize Gets Stature

By W.W. EDGAR

The Dick Hedke award, most coveted of all honors in District 640 of Rotary International, has taken on world wide stature.

Originated only three years ago by Hugh Archer, then the district governor and symbolized only by an award of $250 when he presented it to the Plymouth Club, it has now become a tangible award.

When the 1972 winner is announced this weekend at the district conference in Adrian, the award will consist of a suitably engraved bronze bell enclosed in a case made from choice wood from every part of the globe.

"SANDY" SANDROCK, a consultant for architects in the use of wood, who served as president of the Redford Club, last year's winner, developed the tangible symbol with the thought:

"Dick Hedke, was president of Rotary International in 1916-1917. Because he is known around the world, I thought it only fitting that some tangible things like this bell and case

CPAs To Host Sons Thursday

The members of the Metropolitan Detroit Chapter of the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants will hold a "Father and Son Night" on Thursday, May 25, in Roma Hall, Livonia.

The program committee expects a record attendance since both generations will have an opportunity to meet some real Tigers - Gates Brown and Paul Jata.

The meeting will be chaired by Donald E. Schmalz, CPA of Southfield, chapter chairman.
