The Way of Life.

By E. P. Daines of Lansing Read at the family reunion in Ann Arbor July 4, 1908:

The scenes of our childhood. How fresh and how hew. When fond recollections Present them to view.

How well we remember The olden days. Our frolics at | sports | And the old fashioned plays

We remember, too,
The old house and old barn,
And the trees and the
All over the farm

As we go back in our thoughts. We remember still, The sports we all had, Coasting down the old hill,

But we boys and girls
()f that early day.
Are older now
And our bairs are

We have labored bard.

As man and wife,
To gain for ourselves.
The comforts of life

We have children, too, Who are strong and bold, Who are willing to help us, When we are old.

nd that time is coming, Ah, too soon, We have already past The hour of noon.

As time rolls on Our number grows less, For some have been called To the home of the bles

Three sisters were called, By the father of love, To enter those mansions In leaven above.

And later in life, Came the sad farewell, When father was called, To heaven to dwell.

But if one farewell,

It was when we said for
To a loving mother. God spake twice more,
As he spake to a'l,
Two brothers were symmoned
To answer the call

There are some who have bent, In anguish wild, O'er the sweet loving form Of a dying child

And farewell to each one Ere long will be said, Our tongues will be silent, And our spirits fled.

Our final reunion,
Will soon be at hand,
When we will all be reunited,
In that bright heavenly land.

A home that's eternal. One of joy and of rest, At home with our Saviour At home with the blest.

The Right of Way

Has to be given Harvell's Condition Powders, which for over seventeen years has been the standard of perfection. Why? Because teen years has been the standard of perfection. Why? Because every onnee and particle of the ingredients do their share towards contributing to the qualities of the stock to which the powder is given. You should not fail to try this stock food and we feel sure, that after a few days, you will notice a wonderful change in the stock. Get a package at the nearest frug store. Price, 25 cents.

Cures Dyspepsia; Trial Is Free

It is a popular mistake that only wealthy people who eat rich and highly-spiced foods suffer from dya-pepsia, of, as it is also known, indi-gestion. The laborer in the street, the worker in the field also finds him-self a viction of this disorder. Among the very greatest sufferers from it are women.
