day into the house which he recently purchased and formerly Through an error last week, we stated that Bert Simpson had purchased a new Ford car. The writer was misinformed and we hasten to make the correction.

The sale was postponed from last

L. E. Sprague, who until a few weeks ago made Farmington his with many friends and incidentally

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hoppp on last Friday morning a big baby boy. The newest member of the family tipped the scales at exactly 13 pounds and his parents are just as proud of him as can be. All concerned are reported as doing nicely, and congratulations are in order.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson of Pontiac last Wednesday a fine big 10 pound baby boy.
Mother and child are reported as doing nicely. The father is one of the oldest and most trusted employees of the D. U. R. running between Pontiac and the Junction, and can be easily distinguished these days—he's the proudest and happiest man on the road.

Circumstantial evidence often convicts. Buch Schroeder was seen carrying a big broom down the streets Tuesday, and of course everybody said, "I told you so." His version of the broom is that he found it in the road, picked it up and brought it to town, hoping to find the rightful owner. However his friends think differently, and believe that the broom is a forerunner of bigger and greater things. One thing is certain—you can't keep house without a broom.

The Detroit Tigers returned home on last Tuesday and to celebrate the event proceeded to give the Chicago team a beautiful drubbing to the tune of 4 to 1, the last end of the game being played in the mud. Several Farmington enthusiasts were to be seen in the grandstand, among them being Fred M. Warner, Thos. H. McGee, E. S. Grace, Alfred Coleman, Reed Hamilton and J. A. Price.

Today, Friday, is the last game that will be played in Detroit for a month, the Tigers taking the longest trip of the season and will tour the circuit.
