With LWV Action Area Deaths And Funerals Disagrees

EDITOR:

As a woman and as a concerned voter, I feel it necessary to express my utter disgust and disbelief at the recent pacifist plea by the Livonia League of Women Voters, to peacefully and thoughtfully comply with Judge Roth's school desegregation order.

Their cowardly premise that respect for the law is in that respect for the law is in the concess of the law is the concessation of the law is the law. So instead of blind and discontented compliance with the law, the true flavor of our American heritage is a courageous as well as constructive will to change the things that we don't believe congruent with our principles as Especially nauseating was Especially nauseating was be implication by the league regarding this most crucial Reader Asks,

Dear Eddie:

I want to take this opportunity to thank you for your great hospitality on Thursday.
I have heard so many fine comments concerning the Observer facilities that I had comments concerning the observer facilities that I had to see them. The building and its setting are probably the most pleasing of any new construction I have seen. The complete concern for the evology and for the emoty of the virionment of the virionment or credit oyour organization. I am sure that this, in part, accounts for the very firendly and hospitable at attitude of every own end or our visit. The fact that you spent so completely the considerations and well are the considerations and well are the considerations and well are the considerations and departmental layout of the facility made our visit more than rewarding. Thank you so much.

This is a place of remembrance. A place where we honor our family and friends and rediscover the values they loved and lived for.

Here, amidst this quiet beauty, the past, present and future are one. Because the good that is in each of us lives on as long as those who love us remember

For over half a century, Harris has provided a setting for remembrance, a place where love looks back in order to go forward with renewed strength.

Five Harris locations serve Metropolitan Detroit.
