

Meditators
To Give
2 Lectures

The International Meditation Society will present two free introductory lectures on transcendental meditation in Observeland.

The first will be given at 8 p.m., Thursday, Aug. 3, in the Peoples Federal Savings and Loan Building, 25800 Joy.

The second will be at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 8, in Room C of the Westland Shopping Center.

This lecture will be given by Paul and Mary Sullivan. Transcendental meditation is a technique which provides "deep rest of the body and results in unfolding of full mental potential."

Recent studies on transcendental meditation "provide evidence that through its regular practice (twice daily for 15-20 minutes), the main causes of hypertension, anxiety, high blood pressure, cardiac arrest and other psychosomatic illnesses are removed."

The society is a non-profit educational organization.

Son Christened

Steven Michael Myers, baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Myers of Middle Belt Road, Farmington, was christened in the Bethesda Missionary Temple in East Detroit by the Rev. Harry Beall.

After the services his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Lokojarvi of Farmington Road, Livonia, hosted an open house for relatives and friends.

BAK LAVAA AND EASTER BREAD are among the goodies that ladies of Holy Cross Greek Orthodox Church of Farmington are selling this weekend at the Farmington Founders Festival.

The new 70-family congregation, planning to build soon at 25125 Middle Belt, Farmington, currently is holding services at 11 a.m. Sundays in the Southfield Presbyterian Church on 10 Mile. The baking was done in the borrowed kitchens of the Southfield Methodist Church.

Program Benefits Kids, Teens Too

The leader team program, now in its second year, has been judged successful in helping provide summer fun and cultural opportunities for some 2,000 children from low-income Detroit families.

The program is designed also to train college and high school students in leadership capacities, and Claude Elliott, Catholic Youth Organization social worker who serves as director, said it is accomplishing both objectives.

"THE CHILDREN like it," he said. "The leaders at each program site devise their own programs. There is a wide range of activities, many of

REV. KINSOLVING

The two busloads of poor people imported by the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy to demonstrate at the Democratic Convention milled about on the fringes of a small cantonment of pup tents entitled "Resurrection City" in one of this resort city's parks.

Twenty minutes earlier, Dr. Abernathy had arrived in a sedan which drove over the park turf, honking its way through a crowd of some 1,000 hippies, Vippiers, SDS, Vietnam Veterans Against the War, Tenants Unioners, Welfare Rights Organizers and head-shaven Hare Krishna chanters.

The atmosphere was humid and the aroma was an acrid amalgamation of random cooking, field toilets, open garbage cans, unwashed bodies and Hare Krishna incense.

ONE OF THESE victims was the Rev. Jesse Jackson, now of Chicago, who recently split with the SCLC to set up his own organization. During an interview, Rev. Jackson recalled having contracted hepatitis while dwelling in Dr. Abernathy's muddy fiasco (and he disclosed to this writer that he has recently developed signs of sickle cell anemia).

Despite this wretched experience, Dr. Abernathy was on hand to offer more of his leadership - to the Democratic Party - from whom he demanded no less than 750 seats, or 1/4 of the entire National Convention, for his polyglot coalition of protesters.

DR. ABERNATHY'S poor people continued milling about for another 40 minutes, while this dismal successor to the late Dr. Martin Luther King sat like a caliph in front of his far more impressive (than pup) tent, to receive the adulation of a multitude of celebrity seekers and the attention of the media.

During a brief interview in front of his tent here, Dr. Abernathy recalled that he had camped out in the original Resurrection City, right along with the people as befits a leader of the poor.

Did he reside with them the whole time?

"Well," he replied, spying this writer's media identification badge and shifting his recollection into high gear, "there were times when I had to be out to raise money and there was all that rain."

To implement this preposterous demand, he led an invasion of the convention's arrangements committee, to which party Chairman Lawrence O'Brien initially responded by reportedly fleeing the room. (An aide to O'Brien said that he did not "flee" but that he exited rapidly at the behest of the Secret Service.)

Convention manager Richard Murphy described the Abernathy tactic as "blackmail," but O'Brien, who eventually returned, ordered the committee to bargain with Abernathy.

This resulted in Abernathy's being given, among other things, access to the convention's floor telephone, where he could badger the delegates at will. This feeling of bigger and better intrusions at the same time bolstered Dr. Abernathy's plummeting stock as the thoroughly preposterous successor to a man of the stature of Dr. King.

Finally, one of Dr. Abernathy's Southern Christian Leadership Conference aides began shouting an appeal asking that everyone evacuate the pup tent so that test tapes could be assigned to the poor (a number of these tents had already been flattened when the crowd strolled along "Abernathy Blvd." and tripped over several tent ropes).

Twenty minutes went by with no receiving any such tent assignments from the Southern Christian Leaders, including the great man, who continued receiving his public while seated in front of his tent. Several small children among the poor people either scurried about or wept as a result of the long trip and no immediately apparent place to bed.

THIS ENTERPRISE, which began late in June, is now in operation in 17 Catholic parishes, the North End Concerned Citizens' Community Center and the Truth Lutheran Church. Students in each location supervise and set up the schedule of activities for the children.

The program was inaugurated last summer with the participation of over 2,500 children and leaders.

Widowed Catholics Set Party

The Westside chapter for Catholic Widows and Widowers under the age of 59 will have a party instead of its usual meeting Friday, Aug. 4.

The place will be the Willow Brook Condominium, 500 Ford Street, Plymouth.

Reservations may be made with Wayne E. Dunn, 3916 Township, or D.J. Thomas, 6201 Virgil, both Redford Township.

Jewish Center Enrolls Kids

The Jewish Community Center nursery school is now completing its enrollment for the fall semester. The school meets in the main building, Curtis and Meyers, Detroit, and provides a licensed program for children ages three to five.

They meet five mornings, five afternoons, or on a two or three morning or afternoon basis. Transportation is available from certain areas.

The school is open to both members and non-members. Fee reductions are available to families who are center members and are unable to afford the full fee.

Brochures and applications are available by calling the center.

Area Deaths

PEARL A. RITCHIE - Services for Mrs. Ritchie, 65, of 928 N. Terminal Rd., Detroit, were held at St. John's Episcopal Church, Plymouth, with Rev. Robert S. Shanks officiating. Mrs. Ritchie died July 25 and was buried in Glen Eden Cemetery, Livonia.

She was a 45-year resident of the community and a member of the Farm Brook Condominium.
