Local Teens Landscape In Southwest Mission

Sixteen members of the St. Matthew United Methodist Church high school youth group have a better knowledge of Methodist missions because of a week of hard work this summer.

They not only visited the McCurdy mission school at Espanola, N.M., but left it with most of a new landscaping job in the gymnasium area.

"We couldn't quite finish," explained the Rev. Jerome K. Smith, associate minister, "so a group from an Illinois church coming in after we did was going to finish it up and send us pictures."

THE McCURDY SCHOOL has about 200 students in its high school, including Mexicans, Spanish-Americans and Indians from the New Mexico area and some disadvantaged youths from other parts of the country.

Run on mission funds, it depends for improvements on volunteer workers. The Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Livonia church learned about it through a church member who had served there, and decided to make a summer visit.

The trip was planned for about a year and a half, with funds raised by means of car washes, paper drives, candy sales and a benefit softball game. Accompanied by Rev. Smith and two other adults, the teens left July 19 on a plane headed for Albuquerque.

A bus from the school picked them up there and carried them to Espanola, about 90 miles away.

New Classes To Train Braille Transcribers

Volunteers willing to learn to help the blind read are offered a new series of classes beginning in September in Nardin Park United Methodist Church, Farmington.

The Nardin Park Braille Transcribers, a non-profit organization that has been training volunteers and supplying books for the blind for several years, will be in session again from 1 to 2:30 p.m. each Wednesday in the church, located on 11 Mile west of Middle Belt.

The class is taught by Mrs. Mary Begle of Northville president of the Tri-County Braille Volunteers, and the Nardin Park organization is headed by Mrs. Carole Cramer, Tri-County vice-president. The Nardin Park group is affiliated with the Tri-County organization.

ALL INTERESTED in learning the work and then giving time to help those who need Braille are invited to call the church for complete information.

Recently the group completed transcribing a book on organic gardening for a blind man in Springport, Mich., who plans to have an organic farm.

"The book is 31 Braille volumes and over six feet high if you pile them up," Mrs. Cramer said.

A NEW SERVICE offered by the Nardin Park transcribers involves greeting cards for the blind.

Mrs. Cramer said she has on hand a supply of cards with a message transcribed in Braille. These sell for 25 cents.

"Or anyone may send a card to a blind person by mailing it to us at the church and including an addressed and stamped envelope," Mrs. Cramer said. "We will Braille over the verse and send the card on. Our service is free."

BESIDES SERVING the blind and training new volunteers, the Farmington group gives programs on Braille to school, church and service groups. "Last year we had fun with a class of fifth graders at Ten Mile school," Mrs. Cramer said.

The group receives support from the Lions Club in Farmington, and could use contributions from those who would like to help defray expenses of training new transcribers and purchasing materials.

Those too may be sent to the church for relaying to the Braille Transcribers.

Ward Cyclists Complete Trip

Thirty-eight junior and senior high boys and five adult sponsors returned recently from a 14-day bicycle trip that took them 1,200 miles around the Huron Circle in Michigan and Canada.

The cyclists, members of Ward United Presbyterian Church, Livonia, ranged in age from 13 to 18.

It was the second year the church has sponsored an extensive bicycle trip for boys, and plans are under way to offer a trip for girls, too, next year. A group of girls spent three days bicycling in the Brighton area earlier this summer.

Donald Kamen, youth director at Ward, Mrs. Kamen, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Casey and Jerry Harrison went with the boys on the trip near completion.

The cyclists camped each night and the adults cooked the meals.

Camp For Singles Set

The second annual session of AMUUSE (Adult Midwest Unilateral Singles Enrichment) will open Sunday, Aug. 13, at Camp Grey at Saugatuck, on the shores of Lake Michigan.

The camp will continue through Saturday, Aug. 19, and the theme for the week's sessions is "The Nature of Intimacy."

Mrs. Opal Plum, longtime Farmington resident now making her home in Wixom, is founder and director.

Members of the Continuum Center staff at Oakland University have also been invited to attend sessions for AMUUSE. Last summer Mrs. Plum's son, Dr. Gerald Plum of the University of British Columbia, joined the staff.

This year's board includes Alice Deming of Birmingham as chairman, Lee White of Walled Lake as program chairman, John Halbeck of Lyons, Ill., treasurer and registrar and Erwin Chase of Chicago, advertising and social chairman.

About 60 single persons, divorced, widowed or never married, attended the camp last year, and some 70 reservations have been received for the session beginning Sunday.

Some places still are available, Mrs. Plum said. Those interested may call her at her home, 50066 Hefner, Wixom.

Bar Mitzvah

Lawrence Sovel, son of Mrs. Rena Sovel of Southfield and Don Sovel of Farmington, chanted his haftorah for his bar mitzvah Saturday, Aug. 5, in the Livonia Jewish Congregation, 31840 W. Seven Mile.

Hadassah Members Will Attend Convention

Hadassah members from the Metropolitan Detroit chapter will be among 3,000 delegates to the 58th annual national convention of the women's Zionist organization, scheduled Aug. 20 to 23 in New York.

The delegates will represent some 325,000 members throughout the United States and Puerto Rico.

Mrs. Max Schenk, wife of a retired rabbi and national president of Hadassah, will preside.

In addition to hearing reports and projection plans and participating in workshops, the delegates will honor distinguished guests and hear addresses by government leaders and international authorities in fields of Hadassah activities.

Many U.S. agencies, including the National Institute of Health, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Office of Economic Opportunity have shown interest in Hadassah's youth rehabilitation work.

Donations Sought For Camp

Livonia's Catholic parishes are conducting a fund raising drive to support the Vin- centian summer camps for underprivileged children from the area.

An estimated 1,600 campers are expected to participate in the camps sponsored by the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, a charitable organization.

The society performs charitable work in the Livonia area such as providing food and clothing, legal and medical assistance, rent payments and making hospital visits.

For the past 50 years, children from the area have been invited to attend Camp Ozanam for boys and Camp Stapleton for girls at no charge.

"The budget this year is $150,000," Ruben Queen, president of the Livonia-Particular Council of the Society. "We need $65,000 more before our drive ends Sept. 20. Campers costs run and $70 for the two-week period. A donation to pay for only a part of a day's cost would be most helpful."

Donations can be sent to Society of St. Vincent de Paul, 2629 Lenox Ave., Detroit 48215.

Missionary To Be Adviser

A Baptist missionary has been named foreign student adviser at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti.

William W. Cadwallader, whose appointment has just been approved by the board of regents, spent most of the past 18 years in Thailand as a representative of the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society and as a teacher in the International School in Bangkok.

Riverside Center Offers 3 Programs

David Lovullo of Standish Street, Westland, has been honored as the 500th child to be accepted for enrollment in the Riverside Park Church of God Nursery and Day Care Center.

Mrs. Loretta Lovullo, David's mother, has been informed by the center that David will receive five weeks' free tuition in the program she has chosen.

Located at 1171 Newburgh Road, Livonia, the center is offering three programs for the summer months.

ONE is a pre-school program. A nature adventure program for children who will enter kindergarten in the fall through those in the second grade utilizes community resources — such as playgrounds, parks and nature areas.

The center is also operating a day camping program for boys and girls in grades three through six.

Children may be enrolled for half or full-day care. Varied schedules are available for families who may need to bring their children in different days each week because of work schedules or other circumstances.

ENROLLMENTS are also being accepted at the church for fall enrollments. The Rev.

Robert McFarling is director of the center.

The center first opened in September 1969, with five children in attendance.

DAVID LOVALVO

The center now serves nearly 200 children in its different sessions. It is licensed to have not more than 65 in attendance at one time by the Michigan department of social services.

Its programs serve both day care and nursery enrichment needs for children from 2½ to five; kindergarten children, during the hours they are not in school; and older children during after-school hours.
