

Gun Safety To Be Taught In Township

FARMINGTON
Gun owners in Farmington Township will get a chance to try out their weapons under police supervision beginning Saturday, Sept. 2, and continuing Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., according to Director of Public Safety Ronald Holko.
Holko is beginning the new program because he feels there are many handgun owners in the township who have never fired their weapons.
Professional instructors will check over the guns to be sure they are safe, and supervise the firing on the police pistol range.
He sees the program as a safety program, to instruct handgun owners in the proper use of the weapon.

Adult Ed To Register

FARMINGTON
An educational medley ranging from money management to methods of genealogical research opens to Farmington residents Sept. 25.
That's when adult education classes begin, with most classes meeting for 10 weeks at Farmington High School.
Each six-week session is limited to 30 children who are four years old or five, and not yet attending elementary school.
Although finger plays, songs, and games will provide ample moving activities for the children, each child is expected to be able to listen to stories and sit quietly during the 30 minute period.

Information on these tuition-free classes, leading to a high school diploma, can be secured through calling the board of education offices.
Classes are open to anyone 16 years or older and some classes permit younger enrollment.
Senior citizens are admitted without fee to classes of unlimited enrollment.

SIXTY-TWO varieties of classes will be offered, in addition to instructional and recreational swimming.
They include mechanics, music, business and stock market courses, arts and crafts, languages, speed reading, sports and recreation.

MAHLON D. HARWELL, of Farmington, assistant vice president for site acquisition of Thompson-Brown Co., has been admitted to membership in the National Institute of Farm and Land Brokers.
Harwell joined Thompson-Brown in 1968 as a sales representative in the Plymouth office. The NIFLB is a part of the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards.

HELEN E.R. DITZHAZY of Farmington, assistant principal at Thurston High School, South Redford, has been awarded a PhD in education by the University of Michigan. Dr. Ditzhazy was state chairman of the Committee on Family Life Education for the Michigan Department of Education and has served as chairman of a number of North Central School re-evaluation committees.

2 Guilty In Robbery

FARMINGTON
Two charged with a robbery of a gas station in Farmington Township pleaded guilty in Livonia District Court recently.
Raymond L. Daugherty, 30, Northville, and Eddie A. Hurley, 23, Dayton, Ohio, pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of robbery unarmed before Livonia District Judge James R. Mies.
Daugherty and Hurley were arrested by township police Aug. 16 and charged with the armed robbery of the 269th gas station, 2372 Grand River, Farmington Township.
A fifteen year old juvenile with the defendants was turned over to the juvenile authorities.
Bond was set at $10,000 on Hurley and $7,500 on Daugherty by Judge Mies.

Police Raid Country Club

FARMINGTON
Glen Oaks Country Club, 3800 W. 13 Mile Rd., was raided by Farmington Township and city police and the Oakland County Sheriff Thursday morning because of alleged gambling taking place at a charity function according to township Public Safety Director Ronald Holko.

Acting on a tip from an informant, plainclothes officers went to the club Wednesday evening and discovered card and dice games in operation.
The club was raided by 14 officers from three departments at 12:45 a.m., and gambling equipment — including cards, money and dice — was confiscated.
There were three arrests, according to Holko, but no charges against those found gambling at the establishment.
