His talks are scheduled in the Salvation Army building 290 Fairground, at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 3 through Sunday, Oct. 8, and at 11 a.m. Sunday.

A native of Prague and trained as a textile designer, he was impressed with the singing and preaching of the Salvation Army corps there soon after coming in 1920.

Bible Classes Begin In Judson

Mrs. Darlene Missildine, Farmington resident and experienced Bible Teacher, will conduct a community-women's Bible study class to begin at 9:30 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 5, in Judson Baptist Church, 26301 Middle Belt, Farmington.

The weekly classes, with nursery facilities provided for young children, are aimed at bringing women of all denominations to a better understanding of the Bible, said the Rev. Fred G. Ferris, pastor.

Several factors have led the church to sponsor the class, he said.

"The growing interest in spiritual matters on the part of both youth and adults needs to be provided for by the church," he stated, "and there is an ever-increasing confusion concerning a spiritual experience which only a knowledge of God's word can ever dispel."

The pastor added that there are indications many suburban women have time on their hands and desperately need something to get them through the day and "we believe the Bible has the answers to a full life."

Bethel Marks 30 Years Of Ministry In Livonia

The Bethel Missionary Assembly of God church, which began in 1942 with 12 Sunday school children and two lady ministers, is marking its 30th anniversary with special services this weekend.

The church is located at 8900 Middle Belt, just north of Joy Road in Livonia.

The Rev. Jacob J. Traub, pastor, is heading the anniversary celebration that began Thursday and continues through Sunday, Oct. 1.

Among those returning to participate are Martha Kangas, one of the co-pastors when the church was organized and now a Westland resident, and three young men from the congregation now Assembly of God ministers.

They are the Rev. Jerry Gribble, now of New Madrid, Mo., who will preach at the homecoming service at 7 p.m. Sunday, the Rev. Michael Tyler of Rockwood, Mich., and the Rev. Don Parrent, now of Princeton, Ky., and recently returned from missionary work in the Philippines.
