

Snowmobile Bill Received Local Votes

An Observer Roundup

LANSING

Most local legislators voted for a bill which gives snowmobilers the right to travel on public highway rights-of-way and to ride on road shoulders to cross bridges.

The bill passed on the last day of the fall session by a 25 to 1 vote in the Senate and 76 to 11 vote in the House.

The State police and Automobile Club of Michigan are asking Gov. Milliken to veto the bill, saying it will cause driving hazards for motorists and snowmobilers.

Sens. David Plawecki (D-Dearborn Heights) and William Faust (D-Westland) voted for the bill. Sens. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth) and Daniel Cooper (D-Oak Park) didn't vote.

Also voting for it were Reps. John Bennett (D-Redford Township), Marvin Stempien (D-Livonia), James Tierney (D-Garden City), Joseph Forbes (D-Oak Park), Raymond Smit (R-Ypsilanti) and James Desebaugh (R-Birmingham).

Rep. Thomas Brown (D-Westland), voted against it and Reps. Richard Young (D-Dearborn Heights) and Raymond Baker (R-Farmington) didn't vote.

Current law permits snowmobiles to operate on rights-of-way only in the Upper Peninsula and northern Lower Peninsula.

Col. John Plants, director of the State Police, has urged a veto saying that "cars and snowmobiles don't mix."

The rights-of-way begin just off road shoulders.
