It was only 48 hours after the official name change that he received his first "exciting" call. It was from Charlie Turnon, a disc jockey in los Angeles who wanted him to an interview on Station KROC.

"I even got a letter from a girl in Dearborn who told me her name was Bear." he said, "and she wanted to meet me. We met and I have dated her

IN THE BEGINNING his

So, if you ask "Bear," who got his nickname in his youth because he was small and likened to a teddy bear, "What's in a name?" he can tell you plenty.

Aside from working at the Plymouth Products Co. he is a social director at the Youth Center on Main St.

Some people complain about Consumers Power Company. And some complaints are justified. They always are. Others are based on simple misunderstanding. In either case, they need to be talked about. Consumers Power has asked me to do this. So, in the next few months, I'll try to clear the air. I'll talk about problems that affect people who depend on Consumers Power for natural gas. Problems like the growing energy shortage. The need to look for new gas reserves. Conservation. And why higher, costs of finding and producing gas mean higher costs to the customer. I'll discuss these problems and what they mean to you. More importantly, I'll tell you what Consumers Power is doing to solve them.

Your future depends Consumers Power
