This will be the club's second Breakfast Forum of the season.

Dr. Kelly is chairman of the department of history of Wayne State University. He has written several books on

FISH LINES In Observerland

Four FISH organizations now are operating in the Observer area, in Livonia, Redford Township, Plymouth and Farmington - Southfield.

All provide neighbor-to-neighbor service when it is needed on a short-term basis. Emergency baby-sitting, transportation to hospitals, hot meals in a crisis situation are some of the services provided.

Each FISH group has a telephone number, and a call to that number will bring referral to one of the volunteers in position to help.

If you need help, or would like to be a volunteer, call the FISH line in your area. These are the numbers:

Church Orientation Is Down As Number Of Students Rises

ANN ARBOR — As student population increases, organized religious activity decreases, a recent "religious census" taken by the Office of Religious Affairs (ORA) at The University of Michigan would seem to indicate.

The figures coming out of the census show a startling drop from 85 per cent showing religious interest in 1953, when the university had about 17,000 students, to only 31 per cent of the 34,500 students on the Ann Arbor campus this year.

Each year ORA takes a "census" based on the religious preferences that students voluntarily indicate on their registration cards.

"THIS YEAR we received a total of 29,451 cards," said A. Theodore Kachel, director of ORA. "Of these, 9,381 students indicated a religious preference, or about 31 per cent of the total. For the last

Students Will Hold Retreat

The Garin, a group of young people preparing to move to Israel, and the Michigan Association of Jewish Students have scheduled a weekend retreat for college students. It will be held Jan. 12-14 at Camp Tamarack.

Registrations must be made with Gordon Silverman at the Jewish Community Center, 18100 Meyers, Detroit.

The group has chosen the theme "Is Israel an Alternative?"

An ecological happening, with Rabbi Martin Gordon lecturing, will be sponsored by the Livonia Jewish Congregation, Livonia at 8:30 p.m., Monday, Jan. 8, at the United Hebrew School building, Osms and Seven Mile.

Proverbs, Ecclesiastes In New Translations

"Wisdom for Modern Man," containing the books of Proverbs and Ecclesiastes, has been published by the American Bible Society in Today's English Version. The complete Bible in this common language translation for publication in 1976.

"Good News for Modern Man," the New Testament in Today's English Version, first published in September 1966, currently is in its third edition and has a circulation figure in excess of 35 million.

Proverbs and Ecclesiastes are two Old Testament books in the Bible classified as "wisdom literature" because of their down-to-earth recognition of the practical, everyday concerns of man.

The volume, a paperback, is graphically illustrated by 11 black and white drawings by James Howard of Leonard, Minn.

A SAMPLE ILLUSTRATION from "Wisdom for Modern Man" illustrates the Ecclesiastes passage "You never know when your time is coming; like birds suddenly caught in a trap, like fish caught in a net, we are trapped at some evil moment when we least expect it." The artist is James Howard.

the sky, a snake moving on the rock, a ship finding its way over the sea, and a man and a woman falling in love." 30:18, 19.

From the book of Ecclesiastes, the reader can find:

"I have also learned why people work so hard to succeed: it is because they want to have more than anyone else. But it is useless. It is like chasing the wind. They say that a man would be a fool to fold his hands and let himself starve to death. Maybe so, but it's better to have only a little, with peace of mind, than to be busy all the time with both hands, trying to catch the wind." 4:4-6.

"Wisdom for Modern Man" can be obtained from the American Bible Society, 1865 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10023, for 10 cents per copy, plus five per cent handling charge (minimum 25 cents).

Local Churches Join Key 73 Renewal Program

Key 73, an interdenominational program aimed at making a special evangelistic call to all Christians on the North American continent, gets an official launching this weekend.

Many churches are planning special programs, and a nationwide telecast is scheduled at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 6.

St. John Lutheran in Farmington and Evangelical Covenant of Detroit are among the Observerland congregations planning special services.

THE LUTHER LEAGUE at St. John will conduct a prayer vigil for the 24 hours prior to the telecast, and six families in the church are hosting gatherings to view the program and then discuss its implications.

Rev. Heck, secretary of the Luther League, invited all interested to join the youth group in its prayer vigil from 6

EVANGELICAL Covenant, located at 2331 West Eight Mile, is planning a special Sunday service in which members of the church family will be asked to commit themselves to the Key 73 program.

During the 7 p.m. service, there will be a showing of the film, "There's A New Wind Blowing," depicting renewed spiritual interest across the country.
